Mr. K Agrees To On-Site Nuclear Inspections

Offer Could Lead To Pact On Test Ban

Premier Makes Proposal In Letter To JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has told President Kennedy he is willing to accept two or three on-site inspections a year in an effort to negotiate a nuclear weapons test ban.

In an exchange of letters made public Sunday night, Kennedy replied he is "encouraged" at Khrushchev's agreement to the principle of on-site inspection for policing a test ban.

The State Department said in a statement, "it is to be hoped" that the Soviet Union now will negotiate "on the number of such inspections and other related arrangements in a realistic and meaningful way."

May Be Breakthrough

High U.S. officials discussing the reversal in Soviet test-ban policy stopped short of saying that it represents a real breakthrough in the long deadlock of test-ban talks with Russia. But they think it might lead to a breakthrough in the near future.

U.S. and Soviet negotiators have held four meetings in New York during the last week on the basis of the Kennedy-Khrushchev letters.

The United States has called for eight to 10 on-site inspections as against Khrushchev's maximum of three and has raised a number of other questions to which the Soviets have not replied.

The exploratory talks now are being switched to Washington and expanded to include Britain, which has been associated with the United States in the test-ban negotiations since they first started in the fall of 1958.

In the early years of exchanges the Soviet Union had accepted the principle of on-site inspection but insisted on no more than three on its territory.

In September 1961, Khrushchev resumed nuclear testing, breaking the moratorium which had been in force since the fall of 1958.

Then when negotiations were resumed in November 1961, the Soviet Union reversed its inspec-

Italian Priest Proclaimed Saint

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Vincent Pallotti, 19th century Italian priest who founded a mission society credited with shielding thousands of Jews from Nazi persecution, was proclaimed a saint of the Roman Catholic Church on Sunday by Pope John XXIII.

Ten thousand persons, including large pilgrimages from a dozen countries, attended the ceremony in St. Peter's Basilica. Speaking in a strong voice, the Pope pronounced the words of the canonization as the bells of St. Peter's rang out.

Father Pallotti, who founded the Society of the Catholic Apostolate (Pallottine Fathers), was born April 21, 1795, in Rome, the son of an Umbrian peasant.

During World War II the Pallottine fathers were praised for their efforts to aid persecuted Jews.

Leg Reattached By Surgeons

BOSTON (AP) — William A. Hunt, 37, whose nearly severed left leg was reattached by surgeons last week, was reported in good condition Sunday at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

The strapping six-foot, 200-pound ex-Marine father of seven was injured Tuesday when an automobile crushed him against a rubbish truck. Some 30 doctors, nurses and technicians took part in a six-hour operation to reattach the leg.

End Survival Test

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Hudgins of Livermore with their two children, Richard, 5, and Carol, 3, leave a large underground shelter Sunday after a 36-hour survival test with 23 other families in Livermore, Calif. A total of 92 persons took part. The fallout shelter was constructed as a community project by 34 families. Dr. Hudgins, a nuclear physicist, said the test was successful. (AP Photofax)

Tougher Stand On Cuba Seen In Hemisphere

Latin-American diplomatic circles said Sunday it would not be surprising to see a tightening of economic and political sanctions against the Fidel Castro regime by the Organization of American States during the next week or 10 days.

They noted that only last week Venezuela accused the OAS of neglecting the Cuban problem and that Central American republics long have expressed eagerness for an all-out effort against the Communist dictatorship in Havana.

Muniz is regarded as the architect of Argentina's new policy of stern action against the Communist government in Cuba. He was invited to the United States by Secretary of State Dean Rusk in a gesture of gratitude for Argentina's support of Washington during last October's crisis over Soviet nuclear missiles in Cuba.

Argentina was the first Latin-American nation to lend military support to the U.S. naval quarantine of Cuba. Two Argentine destroyers went to the Caribbean to aid in patrol work and Argentina was ready to send army and air force units if they had been needed.

100-Year Old Woman Found Strangled

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Homicide detectives said Sunday they were without clues in the strangulation death of a 100-year - old womanat a convalescent home.

Mrs. Mary Boyd was found dead in bed Saturday at the Angelus Hospital and Rehabilitation Center in the city's East Liberty district. A towel was wrapped around her neck.

An autopsy showed she had been strangled and criminally attacked.

Adenauer, DeGaulle Meet Today

PARIS (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer arrived by plane Sunday night for talks with President Charles de Gaulle designed to replace centuries of French-German conflict with lasting friendship between the two peoples.

Their three-day meeting may chart the course of free Europe for years to come and decide whether Britain gains admittance to the European Common Market and whether the Western Alliance builds a unified nuclear defense.

But the 87-year-old West German chancellor, now near the end of his long term of power, referred only briefly to the problems unsettling the alliance in his arrival statement at Orly Field. He concentrated on new and closer bonds between Paris and Bonn to seal the French-German reconciliation. He said he and De Gaulle plan to sign an accord ending French-German rivalry for all time.

"This is an event of world historic importance," he said. He seemed to regard his "special reason" for coming to Paris as a crowning achievement of his chancellorship.

Bandits Murder 13 In Burma

RANGOON, Burma, (AP) — Bandits who identified themselves as members of the so-called Kachin Independence Army murdered 13 persons last week in the remote village of Mongkat, 800 miles north of here, according to reports which have just reached this capital.

The Kachins have found little support for their rebellion among Burmese and apparently have turned to pillage and murder in defenseless villages of remote areas.

Newspaper Man Dies

HONG KONG (UPI) — Peter Plumbly, manager and secretary of the South China Morning Post, died here Saturday at the age of 37. Plumbly, an enthusiastic amateur jockey, suffered serious injuries last year when thrown from a horse and was reported to have developed leukemia.

Sen. Case Would Examine Manipulation Of News

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., suggested Sunday that Congress examine what he called "manipulation of the news" by the Defense Department at the height of the Cuban crisis.

Case said he does not know whether legislation would be "terribly effective" in avoiding a repetition of such handling but added: "I'm not ruling it out by any means, and I think this ought to be gone into fully by appropriate committees of Congress."

But Case said in a program taped for New Jersey television stations that the very best corrective already has started. He referred to protests by newspapers, the communications industry and members of Congress.

He said official silence at critical times is all right if its' necessary for security but he continued: "But there's a line, very difficult to draw, perhaps, but a line beyond which the use of public opinion and manipulation of the news becomes a very great danger to the Republic."

Indians Unload Second Ship Of U. S. Arms

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Indian longshoremen unloaded American weapons and ammunition at Vishakhpatnam Sunday from the Archer T. Gammon, the second ship to carry U.S. arms for India's defense against Red China.

The vessel arrived Saturday at Vishakhpatnam, on the Bay of Bengal coast 470 miles southeast of Calcutta. The first shipload was delivered at Bombay two weeks ago. The seaborne supplies supplement emergency shipments handled by a jet airlift at the height of the Indian-Chinese border war last Fall.

The initial American commitment is estimated at about $30 million. Britain and some other countries also are providing weapons to build up India's armed forces against the possibility of a renewal of the shooting.

Whale Wrecks Fishing Boat

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — A man had a heart attack and died and another survived when a humpback whale surfaced directly beneath their fishing launch near here Sunday.

William Morris, 64, and Arthur Barrett, 39, were fishing in a 13-foot open launch three miles off the suburb of Coogee in brilliant sunshine when suddenly they were tossed out of the launch.

"The effect was like an explosion," Barrett said. "I found myself in the water staring at a monstrous whale sliding away and blowing. It was a horrifying experience. The whale seemed to come from nowhere. The boat was thrown into the air, then sank like a stone. I supported Morris nearly 20 minutes until another fishing launch, which saw the accident, arrived to pick us up and took us ashore."

Morris was dead on arrival at a hospital. Barrett and rescuers estimated the whale to be more than 70 feet long.

GOP Delegates Boo Ex-Gov. Knight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former California Gov. Goodwin J. Knight was booed and heckled when he tried to speak in favor of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller at a Los Angeles County Republican convention.

Some of the delegates Saturday night even shouted, "Throw him out."

The uproar occurred at a meeting called by the Republican County Central Committee to promote party unity. Conservative and middle-of-road and liberal segments of the party have been feuding since Richard M. Nixon lost the gubernatorial race.

Longshoremen, Shippers Study Board Proposal

BULLETIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Longshoremen accepted a Presidential board's proposal Sunday night to end the 29-day, multimillion - dollar Atlantic and Gulf coast dock strike. But shipowners deferred action until a membership vote Monday.

NEW YORK (AP)—A presidential board recommended a 39-cent hourly increase in fringe benefits and wages Sunday night to settle the 29-day, multimillion-dollar Atlantic and Gulf Coast dock strike.

The two-year proposal included wage increases totaling 24 cents.

The board urged immediate acceptance "so that the ships will start moving again."

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., head of the board, disclosed the offer at a news conference while teams representing longshoremen and shipowners were considering the proposal. Rejection by either side could bring congressional action.

The board also recommended changes in pension, health and welfare programs for the 60,000-member International Longshoremen's Association.

The union had sought a 50-cent hourly package including 26 cents for wages. Management offered a 22-cent package.

The board warned both sides that continued failure to agree would "not be in the national interest."

Two-Year-Spread

Dock wages average $3.02 an hour now. The board recommended a 15-cent hike retroactive to last Oct. 1 and another 9-cent boost effective next Oct. 1.

N. Y. Typos To Use Own Strike Funds

NEW YORK (AP) — The printers' New York local voted Sunday to draw on its own defense fund for full strike benefits in the citywide newspaper shutdown.

Previously the printers, whose strike against four papers led to a shutdown of all nine, had been receiving strike benefits from the parent union, the International Typographical Union, AFL-CIO, and supplementing them with payments from the local fund.

Meeting Sunday as the strike continued in a stalemate, with no bargaining talks scheduled, the New York Local 6 printers were told that international funds were dwindling.

Local President Bertram Powers told them the checks they got from the international last week would be the last for the time being.

In Cleveland on Saturday, Mayor Ralph S. Locher reported some progress in a bargaining session between the Cleveland Newspaper Guild and the Plain Dealer and Press and News, closed since Nov. 29 in a strike by the Guild and the Teamsters Union. Further talks were scheduled for Monday. The AFL-CIO Guild is primarily concerned with union security, while the Teamsters seek more wages and better working conditions.

Tragedy Halts Wedding Plans

POTEAU, Okla. (AP) — Tragedy interrupted wedding plans Sunday when a family of seven and the 14-year-old bride-to-be perished in an early morning fire that destroyed a small frame house in the nearby community of Calhoun.

The victims were Bert Brown, 67; his wife, Maggie, 49; their five children—twins Carl and Shirley, 12; Gary, 17; Terry, 10, and Johnnie, 8, and a visiting neighbor girl, Christine James.

Neighbors said Gary and the James girl were to be married Sunday.

GOP Senators See Close Vote On Filibuster

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican senators who want to make it easier to shut off filibusters were cautious Sunday about forecasting victory.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif. said he expects the first vote will come on a motion to table and thus kill all the proposals for a stronger anti-filibuster rule.

"My judgment is that a majority of the members of the Senate may well oppose tabling the whole thing," he said. But he added on a recorded television interview program that the roll call is going to be close.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., questioned on another taped radio-television program about prospects for a rule change, said, "I think they ought to be good —that's the only thing I can say."

Another Republican advocate of changing the rule, Sen. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, made no estimated of his side's chances, but he would not rule out the possibility of a prolonged filibuster by Southern senators if a tabling motion is defeated.

"I think it may very well develop into a filibuster itself, on the issue of ending the filibuster," he said.

Star Undergoes Minor Surgery

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Ava Gardner, who prefers to live in Spain, is back in Hollywood. Filmland learned about it when she quickly checked in and out of a local hospital for what was termed minor surgery.

Miss Gardner, 40, went into Cedars of Lebanon Hospital Friday, underwent surgery the same day, and was released Saturday night. The hospital didn't disclose the nature of the operation or where Miss Gardner is staying.

She has a sister, Bea, who lives here.

Europe Gripped By More Snow, New Blizzards

British Struggle Against Fourth Arctic Week

LONDON (AP)—Blizzards piled fresh snow and sleet on Britain on Sunday. Ice blocked all German waterways, closing even the Rhine. Deep snow blanketed Yugoslavia except along the southern Adriatic coast. Glazed roads and avalanches hampered Alpine traffic in Italy.

The German section of the Danube River froze over for about 150 miles, a phenomenon never observed before in this century. Icebreakers were out in Scandinavian waters to help ships keep moving. About 900 ships and barges were stuck in Duisburg, Europe's largest inland harbor.

Weathermen saw no letup in the icy grip holding Britain for the fourth arctic week. They forecast more snow, sleet and icy rain with easterly gales. Temperatures never rose above 30 degrees during the day. Continental readings generally were lower. A temperature of 19 below zero was reported from Angermuende, East Germany.

Villages Isolated

Plows and bulldozers bucked their way through deep snowdrifts across England to open highways. Whole villages in Lincolnshire were isolated and in the north the steel town of Scunthorpe was cut off.

Royal Air Force helicopters flew in the teeth of an 80-mile-an-hour gale to rescue 300 people marooned by snow at the early warning radar base at Fylingdals in Yorkshire.

A Lebanese freighter, the 4,000-ton Alfotis, ran aground at the entrance to the Tyne River. The South Shields lifeboat saved the crew of 22.

German Schools Close

In West Germany, fuel oil and coal shortages forced many offices and private buildings to keep heating to a minimum. Scores of schools have closed.

The Dutch had similar heating problems.

Fresh snow fell in the Tyrol, Austria's tourist and skiing area. Temperatures there rose to 32 and there was fear that a further rise, with the new snow, might loose avalanches.

Freezing weather extended to the Italian Riviera.

In France, rising temperatures brought still more snow. Bus service in Paris was disrupted.

Premier Fanfani Returns To Italy

ROME (AP)—Premier Amintore Fanfani returned home from the United States on Sunday to face a parliamentary showdown, with his hand greatly strengthened by his talks with President Kennedy.

He beamed with confidence as he stepped from his plane, and Rome newspapers agreed he probably had brought back with him all he needs to beat down the latest uprising on his home political front.

Tunisian Red Crackdown Is Protested By Soviets

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist Party protested Sunday the crackdown on Communists in Tunisia. A statement signed by the Soviet party's Central Committee and printed on the front page of the party organ Pravda said:

"The facts show that the ruling circles of Tunisia decided to ban the Communist Party not without pressure from the side of the Western powers. It is not accidental that the prohibition of the Communist Party coincided with the French-Tunisian negotiations on economic problems and the signing of the agreement with the U.S.A. which provides credit for Tunisia."

It was the third such protest in recent times. The first came after the Algerian government, which had received support and sympathy from the Russians, banned the Communist Party. The second came after India arrested hundreds of Communist leaders when the Chinese Communists began attacking Indian border troops.

Military May End Katanga Operations

Tshombe Enroute To Give Up His Last Stronghold

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Katanga President Moise Tshombe Monday will personally surrender his last stronghold of Kolwezi to United Nations Gen. Prem Chand at a village 15 miles from the huge mining center, diplomatic sources said Sunday.

Diplomats were hoping that Tshombe's die-hard mercenaries would not blow up the mines and power dams there in a last burst of defiance as they have threatened.

The Kolwezi operation theoretically ends the military operations to bring Katanga back into the Central government, but other trouble spots existed. U.N. officials said cannibalism had broken out in Kasai Province, scene of tribal fighting that has taken 500 lives.

Amphibious Landing

A U.N. spokesman said four companies of U.N. troops carried out an amphibious operation on Lake Tanganyika in northern Katanga Sunday and captured the airfield at Baudouinville and large amounts of arms and ammunition against light resistance.

Tshombe and the Indian general's escort will drive in a convoy to Kolwezi without any U.N. troops to show the population that the takeover is peaceful, the diplomatic sources said.

The Katanga leader and the U.N. delegation will wait at the Kolwezi airport for U.N. troops to be flown in from Elisabethville 150 miles away.

Few Troops Seen

Reports reaching Brazzaville, former French Congo, said armed Katangese gendarmes are still to be seen in Kolwezi though many seem to have disappeared into the bush with their arms and ammunition.

In New York, U. S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson said he hoped the U.N. troops would enter without firing a shot to end the military phase of the Katanga crisis but that Tshombe may face danger from his die-hard Katangese mercenaries.

U. N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche said the takeover at 9 a.m. Katanga time meant the "most massive technical assistance effort in human history and certainly in the history of the United Nations" would now be needed. He called the situation in the Congo "normal" and "calm."

HST Recovering From Operation

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Former President Harry S. Truman, on the 10th anniversary of his departure from the White House, showed speedy recovery Sunday from a hernia operation.

The 78-year-old Truman was reported in "good" condition. Research Hospital announced that he was back on routine hospital diet and was walking around in his room, 48 hours after surgery. He underwent an operation Friday morning to repair a hernia on his right side.

The 33rd President of the United States was scheduled to remain in the hospital for another week.

Dock wages average $3.02 an hour now. The board recommended a 15-cent hike retroactive to last Oct. 1 and another 9-cent boost effective next Oct. 1.

N. Y. Typos To Use Own Strike Funds

NEW YORK (AP) — The printers' New York local voted Sunday to draw on its own defense fund for full strike benefits in the citywide newspaper shutdown.

Previously the printers, whose strike against four papers led to a shutdown of all nine, had been receiving strike benefits from the parent union, the International Typographical Union, AFL-CIO, and supplementing them with payments from the local fund.

Meeting Sunday as the strike continued in a stalemate, with no bargaining talks scheduled, the New York Local 6 printers were told that international funds were dwindling.

Local President Bertram Powers told them the checks they got from the international last week would be the last for the time being.

In Cleveland on Saturday, Mayor Ralph S. Locher reported some progress in a bargaining session between the Cleveland Newspaper Guild and the Plain Dealer and Press and News, closed since Nov. 29 in a strike by the Guild and the Teamsters Union. Further talks were scheduled for Monday. The AFL-CIO Guild is primarily concerned with union security, while the Teamsters seek more wages and better working conditions.

Tragedy Halts Wedding Plans

POTEAU, Okla. (AP) — Tragedy interrupted wedding plans Sunday when a family of seven and the 14-year-old bride-to-be perished in an early morning fire that destroyed a small frame house in the nearby community of Calhoun.

The victims were Bert Brown, 67; his wife, Maggie, 49; their five children—twins Carl and Shirley, 12; Gary, 17; Terry, 10, and Johnnie, 8, and a visiting neighbor girl, Christine James.

Neighbors said Gary and the James girl were to be married Sunday.

HEADS MINE WORKERS — W. A. (Tony) Boyle, 58, vice president of the United Mine Workers Union of America, has been its acting president since the illness of Thomas Kennedy who died yesterday at the age of 75. With the help of John L. Lewis, president emeritus, Boyle has been running the affairs of the union. (AP Photofax)

GOP Senators See Close Vote On Filibuster

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican senators who want to make it easier to shut off filibusters were cautious Sunday about forecasting victory.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif. said he expects the first vote will come on a motion to table and thus kill all the proposals for a stronger anti-filibuster rule.

"My judgment is that a majority of the members of the Senate may well oppose tabling the whole thing," he said. But he added on a recorded television interview program that the roll call is going to be close.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., questioned on another taped radio-television program about prospects for a rule change, said, "I think they ought to be good—that's the only thing I can say."

Another Republican advocate of changing the rule, Sen. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, made no estimated of his side's chances, but he would not rule out the possibility of a prolonged filibuster by Southern senators if a tabling motion is defeated.

"I think it may very well develop into a filibuster itself, on the issue of ending the filibuster," he said.

Star Undergoes Minor Surgery

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Ava Gardner, who prefers to live in Spain, is back in Hollywood. Filmland learned about it when she quickly checked in and out of a local hospital for what was termed minor surgery.

Miss Gardner, 40, went into Cedars of Lebanon Hospital Friday, underwent surgery the same day, and was released Saturday night. The hospital didn't disclose the nature of the operation or where Miss Gardner is staying.

She has a sister, Bea, who lives here.

Tunisian Red Crackdown Is Protested By Soviets

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist Party protested Sunday the crackdown on Communists in Tunisia. A statement signed by the Soviet party's Central Committee and printed on the front page of the party organ Pravda said:

"The facts show that the ruling circles of Tunisia decided to ban the Communist Party not without pressure from the side of the Western powers. It is not accidental that the prohibition of the Communist Party coincided with the French-Tunisian negotiations on economic problems and the signing of the agreement with the U.S.A. which provides credit for Tunisia."

It was the third such protest in recent times. The first came after the Algerian government, which had received support and sympathy from the Russians, banned the Communist Party. The second came after India arrested hundreds of Communist leaders when the Chinese Communists began attacking Indian border troops.

Europe Gripped By More Snow, New Blizzards

British Struggle Against Fourth Arctic Week

LONDON (AP)—Blizzards piled fresh snow and sleet on Britain on Sunday. Ice blocked all German waterways, closing even the Rhine. Deep snow blanketed Yugoslavia except along the southern Adriatic coast. Glazed roads and avalanches hampered Alpine traffic in Italy.

The German section of the Danube River froze over for about 150 miles, a phenomenon never observed before in this century. Icebreakers were out in Scandinavian waters to help ships keep moving. About 900 ships and barges were stuck in Duisburg, Europe's largest inland harbor.

Weathermen saw no letup in the icy grip holding Britain for the fourth arctic week. They forecast more snow, sleet and icy rain with easterly gales. Temperatures never rose above 30 degrees during the day. Continental readings generally were lower. A temperature of 19 below zero was reported from Angermuende, East Germany.

Villages Isolated

Plows and bulldozers bucked their way through deep snowdrifts across England to open highways. Whole villages in Lincolnshire were isolated and in the north the steel town of Scunthorpe was cut off.

Royal Air Force helicopters flew in the teeth of an 80-mile-an-hour gale to rescue 300 people marooned by snow at the early warning radar base at Fylingdals in Yorkshire.

A Lebanese freighter, the 4,000-ton Alfotis, ran aground at the entrance to the Tyne River. The South Shields lifeboat saved the crew of 22.

German Schools Close

In West Germany, fuel oil and coal shortages forced many offices and private buildings to keep heating to a minimum. Scores of schools have closed.

The Dutch had similar heating problems.

Fresh snow fell in the Tyrol, Austria's tourist and skiing area. Temperatures there rose to 32 and there was fear that a further rise, with the new snow, might loose avalanches.

Freezing weather extended to the Italian Riviera.

In France, rising temperatures brought still more snow. Bus service in Paris was disrupted.

Premier Fanfani Returns To Italy

ROME (AP)—Premier Amintore Fanfani returned home from the United States on Sunday to face a parliamentary showdown, with his hand greatly strengthened by his talks with President Kennedy.

He beamed with confidence as he stepped from his plane, and Rome newspapers agreed he probably had brought back with him all he needs to beat down the latest uprising on his home political front.

Military May End Katanga Operations

Tshombe Enroute To Give Up His Last Stronghold

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Katanga President Moise Tshombe Monday will personally surrender his last stronghold of Kolwezi to United Nations Gen. Prem Chand at a village 15 miles from the huge mining center, diplomatic sources said Sunday.

Diplomats were hoping that Tshombe's die-hard mercenaries would not blow up the mines and power dams there in a last burst of defiance as they have threatened.

The Kolwezi operation theoretically ends the military operations to bring Katanga back into the Central government, but other trouble spots existed. U.N. officials said cannibalism had broken out in Kasai Province, scene of tribal fighting that has taken 500 lives.

Amphibious Landing

A U.N. spokesman said four companies of U.N. troops carried out an amphibious operation on Lake Tanganyika in northern Katanga Sunday and captured the airfield at Baudouinville and large amounts of arms and ammunition against light resistance.

Tshombe and the Indian general's escort will drive in a convoy to Kolwezi without any U.N. troops to show the population that the takeover is peaceful, the diplomatic sources said.

The Katanga leader and the U.N. delegation will wait at the Kolwezi airport for U.N. troops to be flown in from Elisabethville 150 miles away.

Few Troops Seen

Reports reaching Brazzaville, former French Congo, said armed Katangese gendarmes are still to be seen in Kolwezi though many seem to have disappeared into the bush with their arms and ammunition.

In New York, U. S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson said he hoped the U.N. troops would enter without firing a shot to end the military phase of the Katanga crisis but that Tshombe may face danger from his die-hard Katangese mercenaries.

U. N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche said the takeover at 9 a.m. Katanga time meant the "most massive technical assistance effort in human history and certainly in the history of the United Nations" would now be needed. He called the situation in the Congo "normal" and "calm."

HST Recovering From Operation

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Former President Harry S. Truman, on the 10th anniversary of his departure from the White House, showed speedy recovery Sunday from a hernia operation.

The 78-year-old Truman was reported in "good" condition. Research Hospital announced that he was back on routine hospital diet and was walking around in his room, 48 hours after surgery. He underwent an operation Friday morning to repair a hernia on his right side.

The 33rd President of the United States was scheduled to remain in the hospital for another week.

Four Satellites To Study Hazards Of Space Debris

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Space Agency plans to launch four satellites—two of them very large—especially to assess the hazards of punctures to orbiting spacecraft.

Continuing the work of the only other satellite of this specialized design, Explorer 16, the new satellites will register impacts upon them by meteoroids. These are space particles that, if they enter the atmosphere, either burn up or strike the earth as meteorites.

To supplement the satellite measurements, the scientists also will photograph meteors with automatic cameras on the ground and will use radio signals to detect particles too small or too far away to be observed optically.

The latter technique will expand upon previous studies which strongly indicate that swarms of meteors enter the atmosphere or come fairly close to the earth and then race on out into space. Scientists estimate that tons of these tiny particles are deposited upon the earth each year.

Eleven firms submitted bids last week to design the two erectable satellites, which probably will open up like umbrellas in space to expose their surface.

The bidding firms, from which a winner may be selected in about five weeks, include Fairchild Aircraft, Hagerstown, Md., and the Martin Co., Baltimore.

Maryland Briefs

BALTIMORE (AP)—Noah E. Kefauver Jr., a Frederick County dairy farmer, has been elected to his fourth consecutive term as president of the Maryland Farm Bureau.

Y.W. Hance of Calvert County, Earl Beard of Carroll County and Herbert Carter of Queen Annes County were chosen vice presidents.

More than 190 voting delegates representing 10,000 Maryland farmers attended the 47th annual convention here.

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Maryland State Bar has adopted a report calling for changes in state law to liberalize the definition of insanity as a defense plea in criminal cases.

The report, approved Saturday at the group's annual mid-winter meeting, urged the legislature to instruct Gov. Tawes to appoint a commission to study all state laws dealing with insanity and to make recommendations to modernize them.

The group also opposed passage of any law or court rule which would prevent jurors from discussing jury verdicts or deliberations with newsmen or lawyers.

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Nine members of the Maryland General Assembly are among 621 insurance agents who helped write policies on state buildings for about $319,231,000.

J. Hugh Taylor, deputy state treasurer, said Saturday that any insurance agent in Maryland may request state business and be put on an eligibility list. An agent receives about $23 a year commission for each $100,000 of coverage.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Federal prosecutors have agreed to allow lawyers for former Democratic Representative Thomas F. Johnson to examine some records if defense lawyers will provide a specific list of records desired and will show that they are material to Johnson's defense.

Johnson and former Representative Frank W. Boykin of Alabama, also a Democrat, have been indicted on charges of attempting to persuade the Justice Department to drop mail fraud charges against J. Kenneth Edlin, a former Maryland savings and loan operator.

Edlin and William L. Robinson, a Miami lawyer, also are named in the conspiracy indictments.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wilfred J. McNeil, president of Grace Line Inc., has been elected to the Board of Directors of Fairchild Stratos Corp. of Hagerstown, Md.

Announcement of McNeil's election was made Monday. He was an Assistant Secretary of Defense before joining Grace Line in 1959. He is a retired rear admiral and was civilian fiscal director of the Navy Department in 1945-46.

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Maryland collected 7.3 per cent more from its major tax sources during the first half of the current fiscal year than in the same period last year.

Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein reported Saturday that 10 major sources brought in $178,315,114 for the period from July through December. This was an increase of $12,106,792 over the previous year.

Individual income taxes totaled $54,223,228, an increase of 10.2 per cent. Sales tax revenues were up nearly $3 million to $47,282,270.

Recommended pension increases by employers would amount to 4 cents hourly the first year and 5 cents the second. The board's recommended increase for a clinic program amounted to 2 cents an hour and for health and welfare, 2½ cents an hour.

Included in the "memorandum of settlement" is provision for one additional paid holiday in the second year of the contract.

The Baltimore Sun reported earlier Sunday night that delay on presentation of the offer, made by the presidential board, was due to pressures exerted by the shipowners on the White House after they learned what the recommended settlement was to be.

Manpower Study

Both sides would agree to submit the touchy issue of manpower utilization and pob security—the first snag in the dispute—to study by the Department of Labor, under the board's proposal.

If Longshoremen and shipowners cannot agree on the study findings by July 31, 1964, they will select a neutral board to make recommendations, the memorandum stated.

It added: "By their execution of this memorandum, the parties hereto agree that all issues between them have been completely settled and that the memorandum is subject to no condition other than ratification by their respective memberships."

Armed Robbery Suspect Dies During Escape

HYATTSVILLE, Md. (AP)—A man charged with armed robbery was struck and killed by a car on the Baltimore - Washington Parkway Saturday night after he escaped from a guarded room in Prince Georges General Hospital.

The man, Robert Lee Sims, 27, of Washington, suffered a skull fracture when he landed on the hood and windshield of a car driven by Jan C. Taylor of Woodbine, Md., police said.

Prince Georges County Police Detective Capt. Earl J. Huber said Sims was under guard in the hospital after he was arrested Wednesday night during an attempted armed robbery of a Giant Food Store at Coral Hills, Md.

At that time, Sims was struck in the face and eyes with glass flying from a bottle broken by a bullet from a policeman's gun.

Guarding Sims at the hospital was Pvt. Michael J. Hauncher. Capt. Huber said the officer was walking toward the door of Sims' first floor hospital room. Sims dived through an open window three feet from his bed, Huber said.

The officer dived through the window after Sims but lost him in the darkness and fog, Capt. Huber said. Police said they believe that between the time Sims escaped and was struck by the car, he changed from his hospital gown into civilian clothes and headed for the parkway.

There, Taylor, his wife and three friends were driving north about 40 to 45 miles an hour. Taylor told police he saw a man running in front of the car just before the impact.

The man, later identified as Sims, flew into the air, landed on the hood and crashed through the windshield, Huber said, injuring Taylor and several others in the car with flying glass. The occupants of the car were treated for minor injuries and released.

Huber said that after the accident when Sims was still lying on the car's hood, three spectators walked over to the scene and one said "My God, he got it. Let's get out of here."

But their car, parked on the other side of the parkway, was stuck in the mud and they were apprehended by the county police.

The police charged them each him aiding and abetting the escape of a prisoner.

Bond for three was set at $3,000 each, police said.

Police said they are Valerie C. Jenkins, 19, James D. Hall, Jr., 24, and George C. Jenkins, III, 20. All of Washington.

Embezzlers Sentenced

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) —Seventeen officers and warrant officers were sentenced by a military court here Saturday to terms of imprisonment ranging from six months to 10 years for embezzling state funds.

9-Year-Old Stayed Night With Friends

BALTIMORE (AP) — Little 9-year-old Joan Jackson was back home again Saturday night unharmed after spending the night with her friend, Beverly.

Joan's mother, Mrs. Mary Jackson, 30, reported to police that her daughter was missing after the little blonde failed to return home from school Friday.

But it was all a mistake. Mrs. Jackson said that Joan told her she rang the doorbell at home after school and didn't get an answer. So, Joan decided to spend the night with her school chum, Beverly.

Mrs. Jackson said she didn't know Beverly's last name, and added that Joan usually goes to her grandmothers' house a block away when her mother is not home.

Exchange Of Letters

The exchange of letters between Kennedy and Khrushchev began on Dec. 19 when Khrushchev wrote the President that the end of the Cuban crisis had "untied our hands to engage closely in other urgent international matters and, in particular, in such a problem, which has been ripe for so long, as cessation of nuclear tests."

He argued that national detection systems for policing a nuclear test ban against sneak underground nuclear explosions are completely adequate. But he said he recognizes that "a minimum number of on-site inspections" would be necessary for the President "to persuade the U.S. Senate to ratify an agreement on the cessation of tests."

Red China, Nepal Sign Border Pact

TOKYO (AP)—Red China and Nepal signed a border protocol in Peking Sunday and it went into force immediately, the New China News Agency announced in a broadcast dispatch.

China's President Liu Shao-chi looked on, it said, while the formalities were handled by Foreign Minister Chen Yi and Nepalese Foreign Minister Tulsi Giri.

Nepal is a kingdom of 54,000 square miles in the Himalayas between India and Chinese-occupied Tibet. The Tibetan-Nepalese boundary totals about 667 miles.

The broadcast said border markers erected by the two parties are numbered from 1 to 79 from west to east and that China and Nepal agreed to "adopt necessary measures to prevent their removal, damage or destruction."

The agreement is one of a series the Communist Chinese have negotiated with smaller neighbors in recent years.

Maryland Briefs

BALTIMORE (AP)—Noah E. Kefauver Jr., a Frederick County dairy farmer, has been elected to his fourth consecutive term as president of the Maryland Farm Bureau.

Y.W. Hance of Calvert County, Earl Beard of Carroll County and Herbert Carter of Queen Annes County were chosen vice presidents.

More than 190 voting delegates representing 10,000 Maryland farmers attended the 47th annual convention here.

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Maryland State Bar has adopted a report calling for changes in state law to liberalize the definition of insanity as a defense plea in criminal cases.

The report, approved Saturday at the group's annual mid-winter meeting, urged the legislature to instruct Gov. Tawes to appoint a commission to study all state laws dealing with insanity and to make recommendations to modernize them.

The group also opposed passage of any law or court rule which would prevent jurors from discussing jury verdicts or deliberations with newsmen or lawyers.

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Nine members of the Maryland General Assembly are among 621 insurance agents who helped write policies on state buildings for about $319,231,000.

J . Hugh Taylor, deputy state treasurer, said Saturday that any insurance agent in Maryland may request state business and be put on an eligibility list. An agent receives about $23 a year commission for each $100,000 of coverage.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Federal prosecutors have agreed to allow lawyers for former Democratic Representative Thomas F. Johnson to examine some records if defense lawyers will provide a specific list of records desired and will show that they are material to Johnson's defense.

Johnson and former Representative Frank W. Boykin of Alabama, also a Democrat, have been indicted on charges of attempting to persuade the Justice Department to drop mail fraud charges against J. Kenneth Edlin, a former Maryland savings and loan operator.

Edlin and William L. Robinson, a Miami lawyer, also are named in the conspiracy indictments.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wilfred J. McNeil, president of Grace Line Inc., has been elected to the Board of Directors of Fairchild Stratos Corp. of Hagerstown, Md.

Announcement of McNeil's election was made Monday.He was an Assistant Secretary of Defense before joining Grace Line in 1959. He is a retired rear admiral and was civilian fiscal director of the Navy Department in 1945-46.

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Maryland collected 7.3 per cent more from its major tax sources during the first half of the current fiscal year than in the same period last year.

Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein reported Saturday that 10 major sources brought in $178,315,114 for the period from July through December. This was an increase of $12,106,792 over the previous year.

Individual income taxes totaled $54,223,228, an increase of 10.2 per cent. Sales tax revenues were up nearly $3 million to $47,282,270.

Recommended pension increases by employers would amount to 4 cents hourly the first year and 5 cents the second. The board's recommended increase for a clinic program amounted to 2 cents an hour and for health and welfare, 2½ cents an hour.

Included in the "memorandum of settlement" is provision for one additional paid holiday in the second year of the contract.

The Baltimore Sun reported earlier Sunday night that delay on presentation of the offer, made by the presidential board, was due to pressures exerted by the shipowners on the White House after they learned what the recommended settlement was to be.

Manpower Study

Both sides would agree to submit the touchy issue of manpower utilization and pob security—the first snag in the dispute—to study by the Department of Labor, under the board's proposal.

If Longshoremen and shipowners cannot agree on the study findings by July 31, 1964, they will select a neutral board to make recommendations, the memorandum stated.

It added: "By their execution of this memorandum, the parties hereto agree that all issues between them have been completely settled and that the memorandum is subject to no condition other than ratification by their respective memberships."

Armed Robbery Suspect Dies During Escape

HYATTSVILLE, Md. (AP)—A man charged with armed robbery was struck and killed by a car on the Baltimore - Washington Parkway Saturday night after he escaped from a guarded room in Prince Georges General Hospital.

The man, Robert Lee Sims, 27, of Washington, suffered a skull fracture when he landed on the hood and windshield of a car driven by Jan C. Taylor of Woodbine, Md., police said.

Prince Georges County Police Detective Capt. Earl J. Huber said Sims was under guard in the hospital after he was arrested Wednesday night during an attempted armed robbery of a Giant Food Store at Coral Hills, Md.

At that time, Sims was struck in the face and eyes with glass flying from a bottle broken by a bullet from a policeman's gun.

Guarding Sims at the hospital was Pvt. Michael J. Hauncher. Capt. Huber said the officer was walking toward the door of Sims' first floor hospital room. Sims dived through an open window three feet from his bed, Huber said.

The officer dived through the window after Sims but lost him in the darkness and fog, Capt. Huber said. Police said they believe that between the time Sims escaped and was struck by the car, he changed from his hospital gown into civilian clothes and headed for the parkway.

There, Taylor, his wife and three friends were driving north about 40 to 45 miles an hour. Taylor told police he saw a man running in front of the car just before the impact.

The man, later identified as Sims, flew into the air, landed on the hood and crashed through the windshield, Huber said, injuring Taylor and several others in the car with flying glass. The occupants of the car were treated for minor injuries and released.

Huber said that after the accident when Sims was still lying on the car's hood, three spectators walked over to the scene and one said "My God, he got it. Let's get out of here."

But their car, parked on the other side of the parkway, was stuck in the mud and they were apprehended by the county police.

The police charged them each him aiding and abetting the escape of a prisoner.

Bond for three was set at $3,000 each, police said.

Police said they are Valerie C. Jenkins, 19, James D. Hall, Jr., 24, and George C. Jenkins, III, 20. All of Washington.

Embezzlers Sentenced

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) —Seventeen officers and warrant officers were sentenced by a military court here Saturday to terms of imprisonment ranging from six months to 10 years for embezzling state funds.

9-Year-Old Stayed Night With Friends

BALTIMORE (AP) — Little 9-year-old Joan Jackson was back home again Saturday night unharmed after spending the night with her friend, Beverly.

Joan's mother, Mrs. Mary Jackson, 30, reported to police that her daughter was missing after the little blonde failed to return home from school Friday.

But it was all a mistake. Mrs. Jackson said that Joan told her she rang the doorbell at home after school and didn't get an answer. So, Joan decided to spend the night with her school chum, Beverly.

Mrs. Jackson said she didn't know Beverly's last name, and added that Joan usually goes to her grandmothers' house a block away when her mother is not home.

Exchange Of Letters

The exchange of letters between Kennedy and Khrushchev began on Dec. 19 when Khrushchev wrote the President that the end of the Cuban crisis had "untied our hands to engage closely in other urgent international matters and, in particular, in such a problem, which has been ripe for so long, as cessation of nuclear tests."

He argued that national detection systems for policing a nuclear test ban against sneak underground nuclear explosions are completely adequate. But he said he recognizes that "a minimum number of on-site inspections" would be necessary for the President "to persuade the U.S. Senate to ratify an agreement on the cessation of tests."

Red China, Nepal Sign Border Pact

TOKYO (AP)—Red China and Nepal signed a border protocol in Peking Sunday and it went into force immediately, the New China News Agency announced in a broadcast dispatch.

China's President Liu Shao-chi looked on, it said, while the formalities were handled by Foreign Minister Chen Yi and Nepalese Foreign Minister Tulsi Giri.

Nepal is a kingdom of 54,000 square miles in the Himalayas between India and Chinese-occupied Tibet. The Tibetan-Nepalese boundary totals about 667 miles.

The broadcast said border markers erected by the two parties are numbered from 1 to 79 from west to east and that China and Nepal agreed to "adopt necessary measures to prevent their removal, damage or destruction."

The agreement is one of a series the Communist Chinese have negotiated with smaller neighbors in recent years.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm 24, been married less than a year, and I'm ready to give my bride back to her father. Things I once considered cute now get on my nerves. When she used to get mad at me and pout I thought it was darling. Now I'd like to paste her one in the mush and put her lower lip back where it belongs.

Last night we were watching TV. I sat through two hours of real junk because she wanted to watch certain shows. Then I said, "O. K., now I want to see Lassie." She said, "That's not a real dog. It's a person in an animal outfit and I don't want to see it." I insisted on getting the channel so she pulled the plug out of the wall and said, "All right, then let's both read."

I have never hit a woman in my life but I came close that night. Should I talk to her parents? — DUTCH

DEAR DUTCH: No. Talk to a marriage counselor — together. If you two have been married less than a year you're still in the adjustment period. Maybe you do a few things which irritate her and she retaliates via the boob tube. A professional counselor can provide you with unbiased and useful advice.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Are you on vacation or what? Who gave that rotten advice blaming parents of young boys who get into trouble? And that idiotic phrase from your reader about "robbing a young girl of her maidenhood." He's got to be kidding. In most cases this could scarcely be called a robbery.

During the 11 years I've been a juvenile court officer I've seen dozens of these "innocent little shrinking violets." Most of them at 16 have been with so many boys that they can't remember half of their names. When they get into trouble they point a finger at some yokel who had too much to drink so the court takes her word against his.

And what about the tramps who get pregnant intentionally—so they can wring a nice settlement out of a young guy who has rich parents, or a married man who can't afford the publicity?

Since you frequently boast that you print all shades of opinions I'd like to see you print this.

SEEN IT ALL

DEAR SEEN: Having a baby out of wedlock is a tough way to make money. This maneuver (extreme, you must agree) is not a favorite of the experienced tramp. Only a young and stupid girl would try it. Incidentally, Bub, vacation or not, every word that appears in this column is written by me. When I do take a vacation the work is done before I leave.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a widow 50 years of age who is dating a fine man whose wife died in 1959. He has three children under 15.

The man asked me to marry him and I have said yes. I'm not sure now that I can go through with it. The deceased woman's clothes are hanging in the closet. Her personal belongings are still in the dresser drawers. The furniture is exactly as she left it. There are pictures of her in every room.

I love the man and want to marry him but will I feel as if I am living with a ghost? I hesitate to express my feelings of appearing disrespectful to her memory. Please, help.

KATHERINE

DEAR KATHERINE: No second wife should move into a home under the conditions you describe. Have a frank talk with your clergyman and ask him to speak to your fiance.

Of course you should leave the pictures and furniture as they are (for a while) but the clothing and personal belongings of his first wife should be disposed of before you move in.

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Before You Marry — Is It Love Or Sex?", enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:

♠J 10 7 4 ♡A Q J 9 2 ◇K 9 4 ♣6

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♡	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Considering the important value of the singleton club, your hand is the equivalent of an opening bid. Since partner has opened the bidding and jumped the bid and the hand is known to fit, a slam should be contemplated. The slam suggestion should be made by a raise above game to five spades.

Q. 2—As South you hold:

♠6 ♡A Q J 7 ◇ 5 3 ♣A K 10 9 6 2

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	1 ◇	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—One heart. The opportunity to show the four card major at this low range should be seized in preference to rebidding the six card minor. The impression that a six card suit must be rebid willy-nilly before showing a four card suit is a hangover from the gay '90s.

Q. 3—As South you hold:

♠K J 9 7 6 5 ♡Q 6 3 ♣A Q J 4

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 NT	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Two spades. This does not contradict the principle expounded in the previous answer; a six card major should be given distinct preference over a four card minor. With one more club or one less spade, our answer would have been two clubs.

Q. 4—As South you hold:

♠7 4 ♡K 10 9 6 ◇J 10 5 ♣K J 9 3

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	1 NT	Pass
2 ♡	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Our vote is in favor of a bid of three hearts. It is a close case and no severe criticism should attend a pass. Our preference is to bid because, while it is true that on a certain number of hands we might be in jeopardy at three hearts, nevertheless it is worth the risk, because of the occasional game that will be unearthed in this manner. Remember, too, that partner need not go on, inasmuch as you have previously notified him that you haven't much strength.

Q. 5—You are South, both sides vulnerable and you hold:

♠K 10 9 8 7 5 3 ◇6 2 ♣A J 5 3

The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1 ♡	1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠
3 ♡	4 ♠	5 ♡	Double
Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—While we normally do not like to override partner's decision in cases of this type, we are inclined to go on to five spades, not merely because we feel there is too grave a danger that the adverse contract will be fulfilled, but because there is some chance that we may be able to make five spades. This much is certain, the loss at five spades cannot be severe but, if we err on the side of permitting the opponents to play the hand, the loss can be staggering. To bid five spades is really holding the middle of the road.

Q. 6—As South you hold:

♠7 2 ♡5 4 ◇A Q 9 5 ♣A Q 9 6 5

The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
1 ♡	Pass	2 ♡	Pass
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. This may appear to be a symptom indicating that my blood is thinning out, but actually I feel that it is a sign of good business sense. You can hardly hope for game. Partner obviously has no aspirations. He simply doesn't want to let the opponents run off with a bargain. If it were his purpose to go places, he would have acted immediately, over the opening bid of one heart, at which point it would have been a simple matter for him to have bid one spade.

Q. 7—As South you hold:

♠A 10 8 5 3 2 ♡10 5 3 ◇4 ♣A K 5

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—The simple rebid of two spades is recommended. This is better tactics than raising the clubs at once for, if partner should then try three no trump, you would be faced with an awkward problem as to whether to rest content or to take it out into a black suit. Your hand is not strong enough to raise to the level of three.

Q. 8—As South you hold:

♠A J 6 5 ♡Q 10 9 6 ◇3 ♣A K Q J

The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1 ◇	Double	Pass	2 ♠
Pass	4 ♠	Pass	5 ♡
Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Six spades. The key to the situation is the single diamond. If partner has six spades to the king and the ace of hearts, 12 tricks can be counted. If he has a five card spade suit, then surely he must have both heart honors to justify a jump and a bid beyond game.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Ingenuity Can Garnish A Get-Well Gift

Someone has already said, "Sorry you're sick!" with potted plants and pretty flowers. What's left for you to say? A lot! Especially if the one who's ill or invalid is a woman. Just shut your eyes and imagine yourself in her place for a few minutes; all the things you can think of that would appeal to you will make up an ingenious gift list that other thoughtful women will want to copy.

Cologne or air freshener, both the aerosol kind, are always good bets. The "or" is deliberate. You can give both, of course; in fact, a close-matching of scents would make this gift delightfully different. But, if you do, be sure to caution your favorite patient to use one or the other, not both at one time. The air freshener, you see, would cancel out the fragrance of the cologne.

Books appear on the list, of course — they're always welcome, as are reading accessories. How about a bed lamp, a book-holder or one of those upholstered chair-type pillows that give so much needed back and head support?

There must be many more accessories that a bedridden woman would appreciate to take the place of the makeshift arrangements most sick folks endure, particularly during confinement at home.

There are bed-trays made with removable legs, so that they can be used later "in good health." These are handsome (as well as useful) pieces for the home, well worth the "chipping in" when a group of friends want to present a get-well gift. (More sound chip-in suggestions might include a transistor radio, a portable hair dryer, the rental fee for a portable TV set, the expense of a visit from a professional beautician or masseuse.)

A captivating (and kooky!) boudoir turban or cap — several, in fact, for whimsical changes — would certainly go a long way toward lifting the morale of a woman whose hair has been damaged by illness or shaved away for surgery (or has simply become impossibly bed-bedraggled).

A stand-up makeup mirror, a small-but-complete cosmetic kit, a battery-operated manicure set, a plastic or terry bib-cape for protection during those eating, washing-up and making-up processes, a supply of really-efficient dry shampoo, foot-and-knee-rest pillows, hand cream or lotion, a new shortie nightgown or light bed-smock, an attractive tissue container, a bed-suspended wastebasket, a bed-suspended kit for holding all those small, slippery and cluttery "necessities" that usually decorate the bedside table (or the floor!) — you name it, and your get-well gift list can be as long as your imagination is wide.

Any you'll probably find it a lot harder to hold yourself down to one gift selection than it was to think up the list in the first place.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a widow 50 years of age who is dating a fine man whose wife died in 1959. He has three children under 15.

The man asked me to marry him and I have said yes. I'm not sure now that I can go through with it. The deceased woman's clothes are hanging in the closet. Her personal belongings are still in the dresser drawers. The furniture is exactly as she left it. There are pictures of her in every room.

I love the man and want to marry him but will I feel as if I am living with a ghost? I hesitate to express my feelings of appearing disrespectful to her memory. Please, help.

KATHERINE

DEAR KATHERINE: No second wife should move into a home under the conditions you describe. Have a frank talk with your clergyman and ask him to speak to your fiance.

Of course you should leave the pictures and furniture as they are (for a while) but the clothing and personal belongings of his first wife should be disposed of before you move in.

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Before You Marry — Is It Love Or Sex?", enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:

♠J 10 7 4 ♡A Q J 9 2 ◇K 9 4 ♣6

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♡	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Considering the important value of the singleton club, your hand is the equivalent of an opening bid. Since partner has opened the bidding and jumped the bid and the hand is known to fit, a slam should be contemplated. The slam suggestion should be made by a raise above game to five spades.

Q. 2—As South you hold:

♠6 ♡A Q J 7 ◇5 3 ♣A K 10 9 6 2

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	1 ◇	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—One heart. The opportunity to show the four card major at this low range should be seized in preference to rebidding the six card minor. The impression that a six card suit must be rebid willy-nilly before showing a four card suit is a hangover from the gay '90s.

Q. 3—As South you hold:

♠K J 9 7 6 5 ♡Q 6 3 ♣A Q J 4

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 NT	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Two spades. This does not contradict the principle expounded in the previous answer; a six card major should be given distinct preference over a four card minor. With one more club or one less spade, our answer would have been two clubs.

Q. 4—As South you hold:

♠7 4 ♡K 10 9 6 ◇J 10 5 ♣K J 9 3

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	1 NT	Pass
2 ♡	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Our vote is in favor of a bid of three hearts. It is a close case and no severe criticism should attend a pass. Our preference is to bid because, while it is true that on a certain number of hands we might be in jeopardy at three hearts, nevertheless it is worth the risk, because of the occasional game that will be unearthed in this manner. Remember, too, that partner need not go on, inasmuch as you have previously notified him that you haven't much strength.

Q. 5—You are South, both sides vulnerable and you hold:

♠K 10 9 8 7 5 3 ◇6 2 ♣A J 5 3

The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1 ♡	1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠
3 ♡	4 ♠	5 ♡	Double
Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—While we normally do not like to override partner's decision in cases of this type, we are inclined to go on to five spades, not merely because we feel there is too grave a danger that the adverse contract will be fulfilled, but because there is some chance that we may be able to make five spades. This much is certain, the loss at five spades cannot be severe but, if we err on the side of permitting the opponents to play the hand, the loss can be staggering. To bid five spades is really holding the middle of the road.

Q. 6—As South you hold:

♠7 2 ♡5 4 ◇A Q 9 5 ♣A Q 9 6 5

The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
1 ♡	Pass	2 ♡	Pass
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. This may appear to be a symptom indicating that my blood is thinning out, but actually I feel that it is a sign of good business sense. You can hardly hope for game. Partner obviously has no aspirations. He simply doesn't want to let the opponents run off with a bargain. If it were his purpose to go places, he would have acted immediately, over the opening bid of one heart, at which point it would have been a simple matter for him to have bid one spade.

Q. 7—As South you hold:

♠A 10 8 5 3 2 ♡10 5 3 ◇4 ♣A K 5

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—The simple rebid of two spades is recommended. This is better tactics than raising the clubs at once for, if partner should then try three no trump, you would be faced with an awkward problem as to whether to rest content or to take it out into a black suit. Your hand is not strong enough to raise to the level of three.

Q. 8—As South you hold:

♠A J 6 5 ♡Q 10 9 6 ◇3 ♣A K Q J

The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1 ◇	Double	Pass	2 ♠
Pass	4 ♠	Pass	5 ♡
Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Six spades. The key to the situation is the single diamond. If partner has six spades to the king and the ace of hearts, 12 tricks can be counted. If he has a five card spade suit, then surely he must have both heart honors to justify a jump and a bid beyond game.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Ingenuity Can Garnish A Get-Well Gift

Someone has already said, "Sorry you're sick!" with potted plants and pretty flowers. What's left for you to say? A lot! Especially if the one who's ill or invalid is a woman. Just shut your eyes and imagine yourself in her place for a few minutes; all the things you can think of that would appeal to you will make up an ingenious gift list that other thoughtful women will want to copy.

Cologne or air freshener, both the aerosol kind, are always good bets. The "or" is deliberate. You can give both, of course; in fact, a close-matching of scents would make this gift delightfully different. But, if you do, be sure to caution your favorite patient to use one or the other, not both at one time. The air freshener, you see, would cancel out the fragrance of the cologne.

Books appear on the list, of course — they're always welcome, as are reading accessories. How about a bed lamp, a book-holder or one of those upholstered chair-type pillows that give so much needed back and head support?

There must be many more accessories that a bedridden woman would appreciate to take the place of the makeshift arrangements most sick folks endure, particularly during confinement at home.

There are bed-trays made with removable legs, so that they can be used later "in good health." These are handsome (as well as useful) pieces for the home, well worth the "chipping in" when a group of friends want to present a get-well gift. (More sound chip-in suggestions might include a transistor radio, a portable hair dryer, the rental fee for a portable TV set, the expense of a visit from a professional beautician or masseuse.)

A captivating (and kooky!) boudoir turban or cap — several, in fact, for whimsical changes — would certainly go a long way toward lifting the morale of a woman whose hair has been damaged by illness or shaved away for surgery (or has simply become impossibly bed-bedraggled).

A stand-up makeup mirror, a small-but-complete cosmetic kit, a battery-operated manicure set, a plastic or terry bib-cape for protection during those eating, washing-up and making-up processes, a supply of really-efficient dry shampoo, foot-and-knee-rest pillows, hand cream or lotion, a new shortie nightgown or light bed-smock, an attractive tissue container, a bed-suspended wastebasket, a bed-suspended kit for holding all those small, slippery and cluttery "necessities" that usually decorate the bedside table (or the floor!) — you name it, and your get-well gift list can be as long as your imagination is wide.

Any you'll probably find it a lot harder to hold yourself down to one gift selection than it was to think up the list in the first place.

The Ill-Fated 'Backgrounder'

What happened was that President Kennedy decided to hold a backgrounder. What's a backgrounder?

Well, it's a kind of news conference where somebody high up talks his head off but will not let reporters use his name or even quote his exact words. Anyway, Mr. Kennedy held this backgrounder in Palm Beach December 31. It seems he wanted to get across a few ideas to the public and to our allies without actually admitting they came from him.

But this one British reporter muddled up and spilled the beans. This made the other reporters mad, and pretty soon the whole world knew all those things in the papers were right from JFK. This was rather embarrassing for the President. Don't look for any more backgrounders from him.

Which is probably good. If an official wants to toss some thought into the public opinion mill, he shouldn't hide behind double talk. The backgrounder technique is kind of sneaky.

It makes for humorous reading, though. Reporters who wrote up the Palm Beach get-together said their stuff came from such sources as a "close friend of the President" (who could be closer?) or "from the highest authority." Reporters ought to blush, too, for taking part in such goings-on. Maybe some of them didn't like the idea, but you know the old argument: "Everybody's doing it."

Anyhow, it is hard not to remember what Arthur Sylvester, the Pentagon press secretary, said a while back about using news as a weapon. Well, when JFK himself pulled the trigger, the gun blew up.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

Robbing The Brave Pioneer

In an anti-trust suit filed in the U. S. District Court in Chicago, the Department of Justice is calling upon General Motors to divest itself of its diesel locomotive manufacturing business. The government's charge is that GM has been using its tremendous power as a shipper to pressure the railroads into taking its diesels.

The charge against GM is an old one, and it has always been disputed by the company's management. While the Department of Justice has yet to turn its cards face up, many people who know about GM's history as a locomotive manufacturer would be willing to bet that the government's case is flimsy. GM got its immense headstart on other diesel locomotive manufacturers for a simple reason: it practically invented the light-weight diesel. To condemn the company now for reaping the natural reward that should go to any inventive pioneer seems ungracious, to say the least. It is a little like telling Thomas Edison that he had no rights to a "monopoly" of the electric light bulb.

GM got into the diesel locomotive business because of the play-time activity of the late Charles Franklin Kettering, the famous "Boss Ket" of a hundred good anecdotes. Late in the Nineteen Twenties, when he was resting from the labors of experimenting with an anti-knock gasoline, "Ket" announced that "after a fellow gets to a certain age he does one of two things. Either he buys a yacht or he gets a new wife. I think I'll buy a yacht."

The yacht led to tinkering with its diesel engine, which was considered at the time to be useful for marine work but wholly inefficient for pulling trains. Ket was disgusted by the diesel's shortcomings even for marine propulsion. In the first place, the diesel was much too heavy. Its pistons and rings required constant servicing, and were always wearing out. Worst of all, the diesel's fuel injection system was a very uncertain quantity.

Everybody told Ket that it would be impossible to make a lightweight diesel, but he didn't believe it. "The weight of the diesel engine," he said, "is in somebody's head." To take his boat on long Summer cruises to Georgian Bay in the Great Lakes, and to distant ports of the Caribbean from Miami, Fla., in the Winter, Ket was resolved to get a good light marine diesel. He and his GM laboratory assistants devised something called a "heat dam" for insertion between the piston head and the rings. The heat dam kept combustion heat out of the rings, and permitted the piston to work easily.

With more efficient principles, the diesel engine could be made less ponderous. And when Ralph Budd, the President of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, saw two of Ket's new diesels at the Chicago Century of Progress Exposition in 1933, he conceived the bright idea of asking for a third diesel to put into a small streamlined train with which he hoped to recoup some of his railroad's vanishing passenger business.

All of the old-line locomotive manufacturers scoffed as the Burlington went on to commission GM to make diesels for its west-going "Zephyrs." "The diesel," said one maker of steam engines, "does not like to be overloaded and shows unmistakenably its aversion by behavior of pistons, piston rings, exhaust, etc., while the steam engine is not so fussy—it graciously responds to overloading. The old iron horse literally breaths fire and water. It likes a challenge from youngsters like the electric and Diesel-electric, especially in the spring of the year. It enjoys a race, is young for its years, simply will not be its age."

Thus committed to the ancient iron horse, the traditional locomotive makers dawdled while GM was taking away 50 per cent of their market. The diesel, applied to railroading, came at a time when 55 of the nation's railroads were in receivership. It cut the cost of railroading dramatically, and permitted many a tottering road to get back on its feet.

Naturally, with a big headstart deriving from Charles Kettering's decision to get a yacht instead of a new wife, GM has continued to be the big power in diesel locomotive manufacturing. If it has been using its market power as a shipper to coerce railroads into buying its diesel engines, a "cease and desist" order would seem to be the government's appropriate medicine. But to require GM to get rid of a business which it alone had the intelligence and the gumption to create seems as heavy-handed as the old marine diesel seemed to "Boss Ket."

President Will Trade A Federal Judgeship For A Medicare Vote

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Cabinet officers have urged President Kennedy to use his popularity and prestige in the nation to push Congress harder for the legislation he wants passed. But JFK is still convinced the best way to handle Congress is with charm and cajolery, not crackdowns.

He also figures there's more than one way to skin a cat—and Congress. For instance, he still lacks one vote to get the Medicare Bill out of the Ways and Means Committee so the entire House of Representatives can vote on it. All the Republicans, plus Chairman Wilbur Mills D-Ark., are helping to block it under the archaic system whereby a few old men can prevent a vote by Congress.

Key member of the committee who is wavering is Rep. John Watts, Democrat from the Bluegrass horse-racing region of Kentucky.

You will find, however, that a certain B. T. Moynahan of Nichollasville will soon be appointed U. S. District Judge in Kentucky. After that you'll find that Rep. Watts will change his vote and let the Medicare Bill out of the Ways and Means Committee.

Note—B. T. Moynahan is John Watts' law partner.

Talking To Himself

There are two members of Congress by almost the same name, both Republicans.

The other day, Rep. James T. Broyhill, a new member from North Carolina, picked up the private phone on his office Desk and called Rep. Joel T. Broyhill, a veteran from Virginia.

"Please get me Congressman J. T. Broyhill," he told the operator.

Ten seconds later, a secretary advised him of an incoming call on another extension. Broyhill put down his private phone and responded over the extension:

"Hello."

There was a simultaneous "hello" at the other end.

"Who is this?" demanded Broyhill.

"Who is this?" came back the mocking echo.

Broyhill was vexed—then realized he was talking to himself. The operator had routed his call to J. T. Broyhill of Virginia back to J. T. Broyhill of North Carolina.

Behind The Scenes

The teachers of the USA will never believe it, but Assistant HEW Secretary Wilbur Cohen has reported to President Kennedy that the outlook is promising for federal aid to education . . A lot of other people wouldn't believe it, but Rep. Howard Smith, the Virginia Dixiecrat, voted to put Rep. Pat Jennings, Virginia liberal whose politics he doesn't like, on the Ways and Means Committee. It was in retaliation against Rep. Phil Landrum of Georgia, who ran out on Smith when it came to enlarging the bottleneck Rules Committee. . . Courtly Judge Smith is not one who gives up easily, but it's doubtful the Dixiecrat coalition will have much oomph following its recent defeat . . . The appointment of Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, a White House needler, to head the dockworkers mediation board was not a plot to take him out of Washington for a while. Morse is one of the top labor negotiators of the nation, performed valuable service on the War Mediation Board . . . Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman doesn't let the glamor of high position interfere with his family life. He won't accept an engagement on Sunday, which he reserves for his family. They bike, skate, and ski together, spent the Christmas holidays in West Virginia on a family skiing vacation. Mrs. Freeman also shuns social status, does all her own cooking . . . Chao Fu, the Red Chinese security official who defected to the United States, has accepted an invitation to celebrate Chinese Freedom Day (January 23) in Formosa. As a safeguard against Red retaliation, Chao lives undercover in a Washington suburb.

Red Vests

Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, and Rep. Silvio Conte, R-Mass., bedazzled colleagues when they appeared on the floor of the House of Representatives the other day wearing red vests.

Both seemed proud of the scintillating jackets which they had purchased abroad, but when he got home, Hays was put in his place by his seven-year-old daughter, Geeta.

"Daddy, that red vest makes you look like a bachelor," she said.

"What is a bachelor, Geeta?" asked Hays.

Wave Of Strikes

President Kennedy has had an off-the-record talk with George Meany regarding the prospects of anti-labor legislation inspired by the wave of strikes.

Meany has received reports of growing anti-labor sentiment. So has Kennedy. He advised the AFL-CIO president that the White House planned no legislation tightening the Taft-Hartley Act, but warned him to expect plenty of moves by individual Congressmen.

Meanwhile, New York newspapermen are sore as a boil at Bertram Powers, head of the Printers Union, who precipitated the strike and has been the most difficult obstacle against successful negotiations. Editorial staffs have either lost all pay or most of it, won't recoup their losses for two years. Some newspapers are in worse shape.

Most business in New York is off, and florists are suffering disastrously. No one can read obituary columns, births, news of sickness, etc. There's no incentive to send flowers.

Most important long-range result will be intensive automation by newspapers. Offset printing, electronic typesetting, even eventually typescanning will eliminate the union which precipitated the strike.

Khrushchev Illustrates U. S. Nuclear Power

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The biggest piece of news in a long time — and by far the most reassuring to the American people—has just come in the form of a speech by Premier Khrushchev to the convention of the Communist Party in East Germany.

For if there were any doubt that the Cuban maneuver was a hoax and that a major war, with nuclear bombs or missiles, has been and is farthest from the intentions of the Soviet Union, this now can be removed by examining the words of the Soviet Premier. In that speech, Mr. Khrushchev acknowledged for the first time that the United States has at least 40,000 nuclear bombs and warheads, and that the Soviet Union would not risk the unleashing of such power.

The American government has never revealed the figures officially, but the fact that Mr. Khrushchev knows them is in itself significant of the way the world is veering toward an era of peace. This doesn't mean that the Soviets, if they ever built up their strength to equal ours, wouldn't start bullying and threatening again. It does mean that America must maintain her military lead no matter what it costs. It also means that serious consideration should be given to a revival of the so-called "Skybolt" program as a matter of the greatest precaution involving the nation's safety.

For President Kennedy is putting his reliance on missiles fired from this country and on bombers that will be based in Western Europe. In addition, he is counting on the Polaris missiles, which would be directed toward the Soviet Union from submarines under the seas. The question arises whether it is safe for the United States to discard her intercontinental bombers which can fire such missiles as the "Skybolt" from the air at points 1,000 miles away from Soviet territory. Indeed, the overseas bases might be destroyed by Soviet missiles or bombers, or they might someday be withdrawn from our use in Europe, where Communism could conceivably frustrate national policy. This possibility is illustrated by the difficulties nowadays in trying to get agreement on a NATO formula for handling nuclear weapons.

It is worthwhile, therefore, to examine carefully the exact wording of the Khrushchev speech, an exerpt from which follows:

"I will tell you a secret: Our scientists have worked out a 100-megaton bomb. But according to our scientists' calculations, a 100-megaton bomb must not be used in Europe.

"Should our probable enemy unleash war, then where should we drop it — over West Germany or France? But the explosion of such a bomb over this territory would affect you and several other countries. Therefore, we can use such a weapon only outside the confines of Europe. I am saying this in order that there should be a more realistic appreciation of what horrifying means of destruction there exist . . . .

"Comrades, to put it in a nutshell, as I have already said during the session of the Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R., it is not advisable to be in a hurry for the other world. Nobody ever returned from there to report that one lives better there than here . . . .

"At present, according to the estimates by foreign scientists and military experts, the United States has roughly 40,000 nuclear bombs and warheads. Everyone knows that the Soviet Union, too, has more than enough of this stuff.

"What would happen if all that nuclear armament were dropped on human heads? As the result of the first blow alone, 700-800 million people would have perished. All the big cities would be wiped out or destroyed, not only in the two leading nuclear states — the United States and the Soviet Union — but also in France, Britain, Germany, Italy, China, Japan and many other countries of the world . . . .

"I am not saying these things to frighten anyone. I am simply quoting data at the disposal of science . . . .

"The Soviet Union . . . knows well the potentialities of these arms. We have created them for the defense of our country and of other socialist countries. For that reason we have a responsible attitude in the matter of war and peace. We do not want war. But we do not fear it. If war is forced upon us, we shall be able to give a resolute rebuff to the aggressors, and the aggressors know it."

So it's Mr. Khrushchev now who relies on the deterrent power of "massive retaliation." The world at last has convincing testimony that a nuclear stalemate has been achieved. This has come about largely through the growth of American military power. Certainly this hasn't all happened during the two years of the present administration, but is the result of the build-up of nuclear weapons in general and of missiles in particular during the Eisenhower administration.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

FRUITS OF ELECTION — Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., was reelected to another six-year term in the Senate. Clark is 61 years old and will be approaching 68 when his present term expires.

However, unlike some other men in public life, Clark apparently is planning to conduct himself in office with the idea that he will not seek re-election in 1968. What this really means is that Clark intends to rise above partisan politics on such matters as pork-barrel legislation, patronage appointments, etc.

Clark wants to go down in history as the best senator he can possibly be, even if this includes supporting Republican measures and Republican aspirants to positions over which he has a say. For instance, Clark says he's going to seek the best men possible for some judicial vacancies in his state. If some of them happen to be Republicans, he says, "it is not going to break my heart. Partisan politics is out."

What makes observers fairly certain that Clark will not seek another term is his long-standing effort to have the Senate change its rules to place a 70-year age limit on chairmen of regular Senate committees. Clark feels strongly that older men should make way for the younger ones in public life, and in his talks with friends indicates that he intends to practice what he has been preaching.

Varicose Veins Surgery Benefits Circulation

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Varicose veins are eliminated by various surgical procedures, in which the veins are tied off or stripped out. This is regarded as modern treatment even though Galen (130-201 A. D.) recommended that they be torn out by a hook — a crude form of stripping, to say the least. Five hundred years later, Aegineta described a method of tying them off and removing them from the legs. There is little that is new, except the anesthetic, for which we can be thankful.

Smaller veins can be plugged by injecting an irritating solution that forms a clot. Once this is done, the vein dries up and becomes scar tissue. Now and then, the physician utilizes a combination of treatments in which the dilated vein is injected and tied off at several places along its course.

The Russians have a new technic that accomplishes the same result. An incision is made over the two ends of the affected vein. A short segment is removed at the top end (usually in the groin) and a catgut thread is introduced through the whole length of the vein and the two ends are tied off. The catgut remains in the vein and stimulates clotting. This is a variation of the injection method.

Should these veins be removed? Yes, because they are unsightly and useless. In addition, when the body is erect, blood flows in the opposite direction in these dilated veins.

Removal benefits rather than harms the residual circulation. Since the blood is running down instead of up the varicose vein, the leg may ache, feel heavy, and tire easily. Temporary relief is obtained by wearing elastic stockings to compress the distended veins.

The stagnant blood may discolor the skin or lead to eczema of the lower legs. A trivial scratch or bruise often breaks down into an ulcer, especially when the tissues in and about the ankles become waterlogged and unhealthy. A varicose vein may become infected, leading to phlebitis. These are the reasons why treatment is advised, even though the veins are not troublesome for the time being.

TOMORROW: Salt and hypertension.

RIB RE-GROWTH

W. A. writes: After a rib has been removed, can it grow back? One of mine was used to replace a broken bone in my forehead and someone told me this rib would grow back.

REPLY

The answer depends upon how much of the rib was removed, the remaining cavity will fill in, but this does not occur when a segment is taken out.

BEFORE BEDTIME EXERCISE

A. P. writes: Is it harmful to exercise vigorously before retiring?

REPLY

No, provided there are no health reasons why exercise cannot be done. In some, the stimulation from physical activity interferes with going to sleep.

AFTER-EATING PAIN

M. R. writes: What causes pain after eating in a person with diverticula?

REPLY

Eating stimulates the intestine, which in turn, may irritate or aggravate diverticula. On the other hand, you fail to mention the location of your pain, which may be unreleated to these pockets in the colon.

EFFECTS OF NEPHRITIS

C. L. writes: Does nephritis affect other organs besides the kidneys?

REPLY

No. On the other hand, the blood pressure may increase as a result of nephritis, leading to changes in the blood vessels and heart.

THYROID DEFICIENCY

G. F. writes: It myxedema curable? My thyroid metabolism is minus 20.

REPLY

Yes, and the response to thyroid extract is dramatic. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on hypothyroidism.

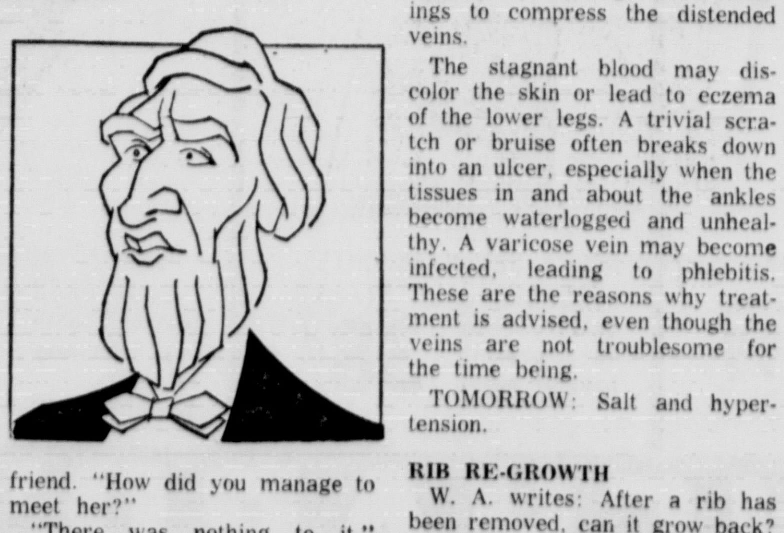
To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

One of the most powerful, and certainly the most eccentric, of the old newspaper tycoons was James Gordon Bennett, owner of the New York Herald. In a fascinating biography of Bennett, Richard O'Connor tells how this amazing press lord scored a four-day-beat on all the rest of the country by printing the complete story — denied as long as possible by the War Department—of Custer's disastrous defeat at Little Big Horn. Bennett also was the man who sent one of his lesser correspondents, Henry Morton Stanley, to search Africa for Dr. Livingstone.

It was Bennett, furthermore, who introduced polo to the U. S., founded the still-successful Paris Herald, and built the Newport Casino.



A wealthy but rather staid banker from Oklahoma brought a beautiful young bride home with him from New York. "She's the last word to me," enthused a friend. "How did you manage to meet her?"

"There was nothing to it," boasted the banker. "I just opened my wallet and there she was!"

A lady in Tennessee has just entered suit against a neighbor for using abusive language, claiming $90 damages — less $40 for the abusive language she used in return.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

My dog Rocky is beginning to age. He will be six in March, which is the halfway point in the life of a German shepherd. He is staid, dignified, the pink-tongued yawning king of the household. The black head is handsome, the ears standing and the head cocked to listen. Still, signs of age are present. When he plays with the little children, he skids on floors and falls on his head.

There are other signs. When he was younger, if the doorbell rang he emitted a soft muffled woof. Today, the same bell causes him to run around hysterically, barking in a deep tone, as though pressing the panic button. Not only that, he will also run right through someone who is trying to answer the bell.

There was a time when Rocky would guard any baby who visited our house. Wherever the bassinet was placed, he would doze under it. Now, when grandchildren come to visit, he worries over the little ones, frets if he catches them teetering on the edge of a stairway, barks at them and licks their faces if he catches them wrestling, and, if an infant cries, he runs through the house like a berserk Malayan, barking at adults to do something.

He's a good dog. The best. When someone offers him a peanut, or a piece of candy, he never snaps. The mouth opens in slow motion and he gets around the fingers without nipping them. He permits children to slide down his back when he is sleeping, and they are allowed to yank his long black tail or pull his ears.

But he sleeps more than formerly. He follows me from the dining room to the office, where he naps, back to the bathroom, where he naps outside the door, to the television set, where he naps without apparently hearing or seeing. When I go to bed, he remains awake outside the door until he hears the light snap off.

Then he heaves a big sigh, and he drops like a safe from a roof. He sleeps with the eyes closed, and ears up. If the oil burner in the celler goes on during the night, his eyes open, the ears turn, and he listens. Once he is assured that this is a normal sound, he goes back to sleep.

He has become so particular about his diet that he ignores all dog food. He wants people food, and he will go hungary rather than eat anything but cooked scraps. Rocky weighs 85 pounds, so he needs a lot of food. In an automobile, he is nervous, the hind legs tremble, and sometimes he gets sick.

By day, he divides his time between checking the personalities of the house, and going into the backyard. There, he looks out through a chicken wire fence, studying the habits of the silly sea gulls, and trying to find roast beef bones he buried. He is, I am afraid, absent-minded. He buries a bone well, but he cannot remember where it is buried.

The family has watched, many times, as he goes frantically about the yard, scratching and digging and sniffing, trotting from place to place, confident each time that this is the place. He is noble and friendly when strange dogs visit us, but his hospitality was stretched to the breaking point one day when Ginny's English bulldog, Rory, went into the yard and dug up one after another of Rocky's bones while he stood by dying of shame.

This dog can be left alone in the house for a whole day because he has learned to turn a doorknob with his teeth. Rocky lets himself out to the backyard when he wants, and he has mastered the technique of letting himself back in, by turning the knob with his teeth, yanking the door, open and sneaking his long body in before the doorcheck closes it.

This leads to the conclusion that we have some funny-looking doorknobs. The teeth marks are so deep that there isn't one knob that can be called round. However, when we are home he seldom does it. He loks at a member of the family, whistles through his nose, and makes a few false starts toward the door.

This means "Open the back door for me." If we ignore him long enough, Rocky will do it himself. However, he lowers his head and ears and tail, and walks slowly toward the back door with that nobody-loves-me expression. It's easier to get up and open it for him.

It is possible that he is in the male climacteric. I know that he expects more petting than before, and will stick his head under your hand to make certain that you get the message. When he sleeps, he dreams bad ones and whines and moans intermittently.

One night we had our friends Dr. and Mrs. Frank Pignataro over to look at movies. The screen is set in front of the back door. The doctor watched Rocky go under the screen, turn the doorknob, and let himself out. A little later, the dog let himself back in. "Did you see that?" the psychiatrist whispered to his wife. "You only imagined it," she said . . .

The Ill-Fated 'Backgrounder'

What happened was that President Kennedy decided to hold a backgrounder. What's a backgrounder?

Well, it's a kind of news conference where somebody high up talks his head off but will not let reporters use his name or even quote his exact words. Anyway, Mr. Kennedy held this backgrounder in Palm Beach December 31. It seems he wanted to get across a few ideas to the public and to our allies without actually admitting they came from him.

But this one British reporter muddled up and spilled the beans. This made the other reporters mad, and pretty soon the whole world knew all those things in the papers were right from JFK. This was rather embarrassing for the President. Don't look for any more backgrounders from him.

Which is probably good. If an official wants to toss some thought into the public opinion mill, he shouldn't hide behind double talk. The backgrounder technique is kind of sneaky.

It makes for humorous reading, though. Reporters who wrote up the Palm Beach get-together said their stuff came from such sources as a "close friend of the President" (who could be closer?) or "from the highest authority." Reporters ought to blush, too, for taking part in such goings-on. Maybe some of them didn't like the idea, but you know the old argument: "Everybody's doing it."

Anyhow, it is hard not to remember what Arthur Sylvester, the Pentagon press secretary, said a while back about using news as a weapon. Well, when JFK himself pulled the trigger, the gun blew up.

These Days

Robbing The Brave Pioneer

In an anti-trust suit, filed in the U. S. District Court in Chicago, the Department of Justice is calling upon General Motors to divest itself of its diesel locomotive manufacturing business. The government's charge is that GM has been using its tremendous power as a shipper to pressure the railroads into taking its diesels.

The charge against GM is an old one, and it has always been disputed by the company's management. While the Department of Justice has yet to turn its cards face up, many people who know about GM's history as a locomotive manufacturer would be willing to bet that the government's case is flimsy. GM got its immense headstart on other diesel locomotive manufacturers for a simple reason: it practically invented the light-weight diesel. To condemn the company now for reaping the natural reward that should go to any inventive pioneer seems ungracious, to say the least. It is a little like telling Thomas Edison that he had no rights to a "monopoly" of the electric light bulb.

GM got into the diesel locomotive business because of the play-time activity of the late Charles Franklin Kettering, the famous "Boss Ket" of a hundred good anecdotes. Late in the Nineteen Twenties, when he was resting from the labors of experimenting with an anti-knock gasoline, "Ket" announced that "after a fellow gets to a certain age he does one of two things. Either he buys a yacht or he gets a new wife. I think I'll buy a yacht."

The yacht led to tinkering with its diesel engine, which was considered at the time to be useful for marine work but wholly inefficient for pulling trains. Ket was disgusted by the diesel's shortcomings even for marine propulsion. In the first place, the diesel was much too heavy. Its pistons and rings required constant servicing, and were always wearing out. Worst of all, the diesel's fuel injection system was a very uncertain quantity.

Everybody told Ket that it would be impossible to make a lightweight diesel, but he didn't believe it. "The weight of the diesel engine," he said, "is in somebody's head." To take his boat on long Summer cruises to Georgian Bay in the Great Lakes, and to distant ports of the Caribbean from Miami, Fla., in the Winter, Ket was resolved to get a good light marine diesel. He and his GM laboratory assistants devised something called a "heat dam" for insertion between the piston head and the rings. The heat dam kept combustion heat out of the rings, and permitted the piston to work easily.

With more efficient principles, the diesel engine could be made less ponderous. And when Ralph Budd, the President of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, saw two of Ket's new diesels at the Chicago Century of Progress Exposition in 1933, he conceived the bright idea of asking for a third diesel to put into a small streamlined train with which he hoped to recoup some of his railroad's vanishing passenger business.

All of the old-line locomotive manufacturers scoffed as the Burlington went on to commission GM to make diesels for its west-going "Zephyrs." "The diesel," said one maker of steam engines, "does not like to be overloaded and shows unmistakenably its aversion by behavior of pistons, piston rings, exhaust, etc., while the steam engine is not so fussy—it graciously responds to overloading. The old iron horse literally breaths fire and water. It likes a challenge from youngsters like the electric and Diesel-electric, especially in the spring of the year. It enjoys a race, is young for its years, simply will not be its age."

Thus committed to the ancient iron horse, the traditional locomotive makers dawdled while GM was taking away 50 per cent of their market. The diesel, applied to railroading, came at a time when 55 of the nation's railroads were in receivership. It cut the cost of railroading dramatically, and permitted many a tottering road to get back on its feet.

Naturally, with a big headstart deriving from Charles Kettering's decision to get a yacht instead of a new wife, GM has continued to be the big power in diesel locomotive manufacturing. If it has been using its market power as a shipper to coerce railroads into buying its diesel engines, a "cease and desist" order would seem to be the government's appropriate medicine. But to require GM to get rid of a business which it alone had the intelligence and the gumption to create seems as heavy-handed as the old marine diesel seemed to "Boss Ket."

President Will Trade A Federal Judgeship For A Medicare Vote

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Cabinet officers have urged President Kennedy to use his popularity and prestige in the nation to push Congress harder for the legislation he wants passed. But JFK is still convinced the best way to handle Congress is with charm and cajolery, not crackdowns.

He also figures there's more than one way to skin a cat—and Congress. For instance, he still lacks one vote to get the Medicare Bill out of the Ways and Means Committee so the entire House of Representatives can vote on it. All the Republicans, plus Chairman Wilbur Mills D-Ark., are helping to block it under the archaic system whereby a few old men can prevent a vote by Congress.

Key member of the committee who is wavering is Rep. John Watts, Democrat from the Bluegrass horse-racing region of Kentucky.

You will find, however, that a certain B. T. Moynahan of Nichollasville will soon be appointed U. S. District Judge in Kentucky. After that you'll find that Rep. Watts will change his vote and let the Medicare Bill out of the Ways and Means Committee.

Note—B. T. Moynahan is John Watts' law partner.

Talking To Himself

There are two members of Congress by almost the same name, both Republicans.

The other day, Rep. James T. Broyhill, a new member from North Carolina, picked up the private phone on his office Desk and called Rep. Joel T. Broyhill, a veteran from Virginia.

"Please get me Congressman J. T. Broyhill," he told the operator.

Ten seconds later, a secretary advised him of an incoming call on another extension. Broyhill put down his private phone and responded over the extension:

"Hello."

There was a simultaneous "hello" at the other end.

"Who is this?" demanded Broyhill.

"Who is this?" came back the mocking echo.

Broyhill was vexed—then realized he was talking to himself. The operator had routed his call to J. T. Broyhill of Virginia back to J. T. Broyhill of North Carolina.

Behind The Scenes

The teachers of the USA will never believe it, but Assistant HEW Secretary Wilbur Cohen has reported to President Kennedy that the outlook is promising for federal aid to education . . . A lot of other people wouldn't believe it, but Rep. Howard Smith, the Virginia Dixiecrat, voted to put Rep. Pat Jennings, Virginia liberal whose politics he doesn't like, on the Ways and Means Committee. It was in retaliation against Rep. Phil Landrum of Georgia, who ran out on Smith when it came to enlarging the bottleneck Rules Committee. . . Courtly Judge Smith is not one who gives up easily, but it's doubtful the Dixiecrat coalition will have much oomph following its recent defeat . . . The appointment of Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, a White House needler, to head the dockworkers mediation board was not a plot to take him out of Washington for a while. Morse is one of the top labor negotiators of the nation, performed valuable service on the War Mediation Board . . . Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman doesn't let the glamor of high position interfere with his family life. He won't accept an engagement on Sunday, which he reserves for his family. They bike, skate, and ski together, spent the Christmas holidays in West Virginia on a family skiing vacation. Mrs. Freeman also shuns social status, does all her own cooking . . . Chao Fu, the Red Chinese security official who defected to the United States, has accepted an invitation to celebrate Chinese Freedom Day (January 23) in Formosa. As a safeguard against Red retaliation, Chao lives undercover in a Washington suburb.

Red Vests

Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, and Rep. Silvio Conte, R-Mass., bedazzled colleagues when they appeared on the floor of the House of Representatives the other day wearing red vests.

Both seemed proud of the scintillating jackets which they had purchased abroad, but when he got home, Hays was put in his place by his seven-year-old daughter, Geeta.

"Daddy, that red vest makes you look like a bachelor," she said.

"What is a bachelor, Geeta?" asked Hays.

Wave Of Strikes

President Kennedy has had an off-the-record talk with George Meany regarding the prospects of anti-labor legislation inspired by the wave of strikes.

Meany has received reports of growing anti-labor sentiment. So has Kennedy. He advised the AFL-CIO president that the White House planned no legislation tightening the Taft-Hartley Act, but warned him to expect plenty of moves by individual Congressmen.

Meanwhile, New York newspapermen are sore as a boil at Bertram Powers, head of the Printers Union, who precipitated the strike and has been the most difficult obstacle against successful negotiations. Editorial staffs have either lost all pay or most of it, won't recoup their losses for two years. Some newspapers are in worse shape.

Most business in New York is off, and florists are suffering disastrously. No one can read obituary columns, births, news of sickness, etc. There's no incentive to send flowers.

Most important long-range result will be intensive automation by newspapers. Offset printing, electronic typesetting, even eventually typescanning will eliminate the union which precipitated the strike.

Khrushchev Illustrates U. S. Nuclear Power

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The biggest piece of news in a long time — and by far the most reassuring to the American people—has just come in the form of a speech by Premier Khrushchev to the convention of the Communist Party in East Germany.

For if there were any doubt that the Cuban maneuver was a hoax and that a major war, with nuclear bombs or missiles, has been and is farthest from the intentions of the Soviet Union, this now can be removed by examining the words of the Soviet Premier. In that speech, Mr. Khrushchev acknowledged for the first time that the United States has at least 40,000 nuclear bombs and warheads, and that the Soviet Union would not risk the unleashing of such power.

The American government has never revealed the figures officially, but the fact that Mr. Khrushchev knows them is in itself significant of the way the world is veering toward an era of peace. This doesn't mean that the Soviets, if they ever built up their strength to equal ours, wouldn't start bullying and threatening again. It does mean that America must maintain her military lead no matter what it costs. It also means that serious consideration should be given to a revival of the so-called "Skybolt" program as a matter of the greatest precaution involving the nation's safety.

For President Kennedy is putting his reliance on missiles fired from this country and on bombers that will be based in Western Europe. In addition, he is counting on the Polaris missiles, which would be directed toward the Soviet Union from submarines under the seas. The question arises whether it is safe for the United States to discard her intercontinental bombers which can fire such missiles as the "Skybolt" from the air at points 1,000 miles away from Soviet territory. Indeed, the overseas bases might be destroyed by Soviet missiles or bombers, or they might someday be withdrawn from our use in Europe, where Communism could conceivably frustrate national policy. This possibility is illustrated by the difficulties nowadays in trying to get agreement on a NATO formula for handling nuclear weapons.

It is worthwhile, therefore, to examine carefully the exact wording of the Khrushchev speech, an exerpt from which follows:

"I will tell you a secret: Our scientists have worked out a 100-megaton bomb. But according to our scientists' calculations, a 100-megaton bomb must not be used in Europe.

"Should our probable enemy unleash war, then where should we drop it — over West Germany or France? But the explosion of such a bomb over this territory would affect you and several other countries. Therefore, we can use such a weapon only outside the confines of Europe. I am saying this in order that there should be a more realistic appreciation of what horrifying means of destruction there exist . . . .

"Comrades, to put it in a nutshell, as I have already said during the session of the Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R., it is not advisable to be in a hurry for the other world. Nobody ever returned from there to report that one lives better there than here . . . .

"At present, according to the estimates by foreign scientists and military experts, the United States has roughly 40,000 nuclear bombs and warheads. Everyone knows that the Soviet Union, too, has more than enough of this stuff.

"What would happen if all that nuclear armament were dropped on human heads? As the result of the first blow alone, 700-800 million people would have perished. All the big cities would be wiped out or destroyed, not only in the two leading nuclear states — the United States and the Soviet Union — but also in France, Britain, Germany, Italy, China, Japan and many other countries of the world . . . .

"I am not saying these things to frighten anyone. I am simply quoting data at the disposal of science . . . .

"The Soviet Union . . . knows well the potentialities of these arms. We have created them for the defense of our country and of other socialist countries. For that reason we have a responsible attitude in the matter of war and peace. We do not want war. But we do not fear it. If war is forced upon us, we shall be able to give a resolute rebuff to the aggressors, and the aggressors know it."

So it's Mr. Khrushchev now who relies on the deterrent power of "massive retaliation." The world at last has convincing testimony that a nuclear stalemate has been achieved. This has come about largely through the growth of American military power. Certainly this hasn't all happened during the two years of the present administration, but is the result of the build-up of nuclear weapons in general and of missiles in particular during the Eisenhower administration.

FRUITS OF ELECTION — Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., was reelected to another six-year term in the Senate. Clark is 61 years old and will be approaching 68 when his present term expires.

However, unlike some other men in public life, Clark apparently is planning to conduct himself in office with the idea that he will not seek re-election in 1968. What this really means is that Clark intends to rise above partisan politics on such matters as pork-barrel legislation, patronage appointments, etc.

Clark wants to go down in history as the best senator he can possibly be, even if this includes supporting Republican measures and Republican aspirants to positions over which he has a say. For instance, Clark says he's going to seek the best men possible for some judicial vacancies in his state. If some of them happen to be Republicans, he says, "it is not going to break my heart. Partisan politics is out."

What makes observers fairly certain that Clark will not seek another term is his long-standing effort to have the Senate change its rules to place a 70-year age limit on chairmen of regular Senate committees. Clark feels strongly that older men should make way for the younger ones in public life, and in his talks with friends indicates that he intends to practice what he has been preaching.

Varicose Veins Surgery Benefits Circulation

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Varicose veins are eliminated by various surgical procedures, in which the veins are tied off or stripped out. This is regarded as modern treatment even though Galen (130-201 A. D.) recommended that they be torn out by a hook — a crude form of stripping, to say the least. Five hundred years later, Aegineta described a method of tying them off and removing them from the legs. There is little that is new, except the anesthetic, for which we can be thankful.

He follows me from the dining room to the office, where he naps, back to the bathroom, where he naps outside the door, to the television set, where he naps without apparently hearing or seeing. When I go to bed, he remains awake outside the door until he hears the light snap off.

Then he heaves a big sigh, and he drops like a safe from a roof. He sleeps with the eyes closed, and ears up. If the oil burner in the celler goes on during the night, his eyes open, the ears turn, and he listens. Once he is assured that this is a normal sound, he goes back to sleep.

He has become so particular about his diet that he ignores all dog food. He wants people food, and he will go hungary rather than eat anything but cooked scraps. Rocky weighs 85 pounds, so he needs a lot of food. In an automobile, he is nervous, the hind legs tremble, and sometimes he gets sick.

By day, he divides his time between checking the personalities of the house, and going into the backyard. There, he looks out through a chicken wire fence, studying the habits of the silly sea gulls, and trying to find roast beef bones he buried. He is, I am afraid, absent-minded. He buries a bone well, but he cannot remember where it is buried.

The family has watched, many times, as he goes frantically about the yard, scratching and digging and sniffing, trotting from place to place, confident each time that this is the place. He is noble and friendly when strange dogs visit us, but his hospitality was stretched to the breaking point one day when Ginny's English bulldog, Rory, went into the yard and dug up one after another of Rocky's bones while he stood by dying of shame.

This dog can be left alone in the house for a whole day because he has learned to turn a doorknob with his teeth. Rocky lets himself out to the backyard when he wants, and he has mastered the technique of letting himself back in, by turning the knob with his teeth, yanking the door, open and sneaking his long body in before the doorcheck closes it.

This leads to the conclusion that we have some funny-looking doorknobs. The teeth marks are so deep that there isn't one knob that can be called round. However, when we are home he seldom does it. He loks at a member of the family, whistles through his nose, and makes a few false starts toward the door.

This means "Open the back door for me." If we ignore him long enough, Rocky will do it himself. However, he lowers his head and ears and tail, and walks slowly toward the back door with that nobody-loves-me expression. It's easier to get up and open it for him.

It is possible that he is in the male climacteric. I know that he expects more petting than before, and will stick his head under your hand to make certain that you get the message. When he sleeps, he dreams bad ones and whines and moans intermittently.

One night we had our friends Dr. and Mrs. Frank Pignataro over to look at movies. The screen is set in front of the back door. The doctor watched Rocky go under the screen, turn the doorknob, and let himself out. A little later, the dog let himself back in. "Did you see that?" the psychiatrist whispered to his wife. "You only imagined it," she said . . .

Keyser Boy Scout Troop To Reorganize January 23

KEYSER — Edwin S. Keener, institutional representative of scouting for Keyser's Grace Methodist Church, has announced reorganization of Troop 39, Boy Scouts of America, under sponsorship of the Methodist men.

The troop, one of the oldest in the city, has been chartered for over 27 years and will meet each Wednesday evening at 7 in the church basement. The organization is open to youths of scouting age, over 11 years old. Interested boys are invited to be present Wednesday and see scouting in action.

With the advent of a newcomer into the scout program many parents have questions relative to their son's intended activity. A meeting for the adults will be conducted in the church basement at 7:30 p. m .on Wednesday. This will be the first of three meetings for interester parents and others who are working toward the revitalization of Troop 39. The other two sessions are scheduled for Thursday, January 31, and Thursday, February 7.

The first session will cover "What Boy Scouting Is," outlining basic ideas of the program. The second session will be on "Troop Operations" and show scouting structure within the church, sponsors' responsibilities, and the troop's obligation to each boy. The final meeting will close with explanation on how an effective program contributes to the growth of a boy in scout teamwork, scoutcraft, and scout spirit.

Upon completion of the adults' course the troop charter will be finalized with official signing of the troop committee, scoutmaster, and assistants. Along with the charter will be a request for official Boy Scout membership for all boys who join Troop 39.

While it is being prepared primarily for the Grace Methodist Church's new troop, the adult leadership training conference is open to all registered troop committeemen, scoutmasters, District commissioners of Tri-Valley District, Potomac Council, B. S. A., who have not completed the training course.

The two-fold purpose of the course is to train Scout leadership for new and existing troops and fully inform the parents about their son's desire to become a Boy Scout, with understanding on how to accomplish this goal.

During a recent meeting at the church it was announced that the New Study Guides of the Bible were received for the year. A business meeting was held after the study hour. A project of sewing and giving articles needed for their missionaries is being planned. At noon a luncheon was served by the committee composed of Mrs. Ellen Porter, Mrs. Dorothy Roberts, Mrs. Bette Lashbaugh, and Mrs. Felice Moses.

Firefighters Meet Today, Report Given

CLARYSVILLE—The Clarysville Volunteer Fire Company will meet today at 8 p. m. in the fire hall, according to Norman Filsinger, newly elected president.

Chief Thomas Storey submitted the department's 1962 report during a meeting at which time officers were installed by Charles Crawford, president of the Allegany - Garrett County Volunteer Firemen' Association.

Storey said 16 alarms were answered last year as follows: One house, four forest, three auto accidents, three car fires, four assists and one false alarm. An average of six men per alarm attended and the estimated loss was set at $250.

Officials pointed out that due to a program sponsored by the company those living in the immediate area have been educated and have become fire prevention conscious. Only one hour and 45 minutes were required to have the pumper in operation to extinguish all the fires. Twenty-two drills were conducted during the year.

Outgoing Treasurer Paul G. Adams gave a detailed report of ali income and expenditures during 1962. Francis Fatkin reported on the executive committee meeting of the association at the Baltimore Pike fire hall earlier this month.

Birth Announced

KEYSER — Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Buohano, 9651 13th View Street, Norfolk 3, Va., announce the birth of a son, January 16. The mother is the former Miss Frances Hott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Finley Hott, Keyser.

NATURE LOVERS — A wild doe tenderly sniffs at a cat in an abandoned barn somewhere in southwestern Wisconsin. A photographer with a telephoto lens caught the nature lovers in their private world while on another picture assignment.

Episcopal Group Has Card Party

Two Men Face Jury Action

SOMERSET, Pa. — Bonds totaling $500 have been placed against two young California residents who are being held in Somerset County jail for action of the February term of Somerset County Circuit Court.

The men, Ronald Lewis Wortman, 21, and Robert H. Nevins, 23, both of South San Gabriel, Calif., pleaded guilty to five separate charges of breaking into and stealing money from roadside pay telephone stations in Somerset County.

The hearings were held before Squire P. G. Marenna, Somerset, who ordered the men held in default of $500 bond on each of the charges.

The men were captured early Friday by Constable Harry E. Gohn of Jenner Township, who was alerted to the actions of the two men by a woman who saw the men tampering with a phone booth across the road from the constable's house.

W. Va.'s Taxes Expected To Remain Same

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Gov. W. W. Barron's tax-extension program, expected to get through the Legislature without too much trouble, was slated to clear its first hurdle this week on the floor of the House of Delegates.

Barron asked the Legislature to extend for another year current rates on five taxes, including the 3 per cent consumer sales tax. One of those taxes, the 6-cent-a-pack levy on cigarettes, was reported out of House Finance Committee last week with the recommendation that it be made permanent.

The Legislature, faced with such other controversial measures as reapportionment bills and medical care bills, also has been asked to find about $16 million to finance a school program backed by the West Virginia Education Association.

The program, which includes $10 million for teacher salary increases, received a cool reception from legislative leaders who were told Saturday that the state has no real choice in the matter.

WVEA executive secretary Phares Reeder said inadequate schools and roads "are the two major deterents to West Virginia's industrial and business development."

Reeder said that if the Legislature wants West Virginia "to pick itself up by its bootstraps," the lawmakers have no choice but to find sufficient revenues to put through proposed school and road improvement programs.

Reapportionment proposals are scheduled for another airing next Tuesday in the House Redistricting Committee of Del. J. E. (Ned) Watson, D-Marion. Watson held a hearing last Thursday when he got an inkling of things to come.

Representatives from several small counties testified and, in effect, said "leave us alone" or consolidate small counties into new groupings large enough to qualify for their own delegates. Some sort of House reapportionment still appeared inevitable.

Dinner Scheduled

WESTERNPORT — The Volunteer Bible Class of Church of the Brethren will sponsor an achievement dinner Thursday at 6 p. m. in Fellowship Hall of the church.

Eastern Star Installs At Barton

BARTON — New officers of Barton Chapter No. 37, Order of Eastern Star, were installed a recent evening in the IOOF hall and "Obligation Night" will be observed at the meeting today.

Mrs. Alice Barnard was installed as worthy matron and Austin Michael as worthy patron. Serving with them are Mrs. Juanita Beachy, associate matron; George Kirkwood, associate patron; Mrs. Mildred Martin, secretary; Mrs. Ella Conn, treasurer; Mrs. Virginia Hoffa, conductress.

Mrs. Evelyn Michael, associate conductress; Mrs. Leona Kirkwood, chaplain; Mrs. Hilda Stafford, marshall; Mrs. Helen Kyle, organist; Mrs. Mary Ann Penman, Esther; Mrs. Della Ayres, warder; and J. Irvin Martin, sentinel. Other officers will be installed later.

Installing officer was Mrs. Mildred Martin, past grand matron of Maryland.

Following the ceremony Ella Conn sang "For All You've Done" with Mrs. Dorothy Roberts at the piano. The junior past matron received her jewel and gifts were presented. Refreshments were served by the retiring worthy matron and patron. Mrs. Bernard spoke of her aims for the coming year and announced her motto, faith, her color, green, and her flower, rose and fern.

Committees to serve for the year are: ways and means — Juanita Beachy, Ella Conn, Mildred Martin, Helen Kyle, and Mary Ann Penman; refreshments — Leona Kirkwood, chairman, Kathleen Robertson, co-chairman, Helen Kroll, Virginia Hoffa, Helen Kyle, Hilda Stafford, Irvin Michael, and George Kirkwood; auditing — Leona Kirkwood, Virginia Hoffa, and Austin Michael; cheer — Ella Conn, Evelyn Michael, Mary Ann Penman, and Della Ayres; Cards — Virginia Hoffa; Prompter — Hilda Stafford; Examing — Evelyn Michael, Virginia Hoffa, and Irvin Martin; publicity — Evelyn Michael; temple — Mildred Martin; gifts — Evelyn Michael, Hilda Stafford; substitutes — Ada Kimble, Ruby Gattens; flowers, Alice Barnard.

WSCS Officers Meeting Slated

LONACONING — WSCS officers of churches in Lonaconing are invited to attend a meeting on January 30 at the home of Mrs. John McClain to make arrangements for the "World Day of Prayer" on March 1.

The Presbyterian Church will be host with Mrs. Leah Marsh in charge.

The WSCS of the Lonaconing Methodist Church met recently in the social room with Mrs. Hilda Philips in charge of devotions. Mrs. Katie Lohr read the scripture and Mrs. Mary Donald offered prayer.

Mrs. Martha Grindle presided at the business meeting at which time routine reports were given by the officers. A social hour was held.

New Creek, South Branch In Watershed Program

MORGANTOWN — West Virginia watershed development includes those at New Creek in nearby Mineral County and the South Branch of the Potomac River which involves more than 180,000 acres and 24 major structures.

Eight of the 24 have been completed, according to George Sharpe state extension soil conservation specialist of West Virginia University, who reports that an additional three are under construction, and a new one is to be started this year.

This watershed, he said, involves Hardy and Pendleton counties and a part of Virginia.

Another 180,000-acre project is the Patterson Creek watershed, which passed through the planning phase just last year. Initial construction of structures on this watershed will begin this year.

New Creek, Brush Creek, and Bond's Creek watersheds are all scheduled for completion in 1965. The New Creek operation will have 12 major structures on it. Construction on the Bond's Creek operation in Ritchie County was completed last year, and land treatment measures are to continue through 1965.

West Virginia now has more than 17,000 acres in completed watersheds and work is progressing on an additional 480,000 acres including eight projects now in the "operations" phase of development. This means that construction of the various flood preventive structures is underway, and that farmers are in the process of installing complimentary land treatments.

Barton Church Choir Election Is Held

BARTON — Ernest Kyle was named president of the senior choir of the First Presbyterian Church during a recent dinner meeting in Cumberland.

William Brown Sr., was elected vice president; Delberta Schramm, secretary; and Maxine Snyder, treasurer. Committees appointed include Mary C. Miller, chairman, Wilma Miller and Ann Lamberson, ways and means; Jean Lamberson, publicity; Mary Kiddy, cards and flowers; and Kathy Ford, librarian.

Those attending were Rev. and Mrs. George Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Cross, Mr. and Mrs. William Brown Sr. and son, David, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kyle and daughter, Susan, Mrs. Maxine Snyder, Mrs. Delberta Schramm, Mrs. Mary Kiddy, Mrs. Jean Lamberson, Mrs. Wilma Miller, Miss Mary C. Miller, Miss Ann Lamberson, and Miss Kathy Ford.

W. Va.'s Taxes Expected To Remain Same

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Gov. W. W. Barron's tax-extension program, expected to get through the Legislature without too much trouble, was slated to clear its first hurdle this week on the floor of the House of Delegates.

Barron asked the Legislature to extend for another year current rates on five taxes, including the 3 per cent consumer sales tax. One of those taxes, the 6-cent-a-pack levy on cigarettes, was reported out of House Finance Committee last week with the recommendation that it be made permanent.

The Legislature, faced with such other controversial measures as reapportionment bills and medical care bills, also has been asked to find about $16 million to finance a school program backed by the West Virginia Education Association.

The program, which includes $10 million for teacher salary increases, received a cool reception from legislative leaders who were told Saturday that the state has no real choice in the matter.

WVEA executive secretary Phares Reeder said inadequate schools and roads "are the two major deterents to West Virginia's industrial and business development."

Reeder said that if the Legislature wants West Virginia "to pick itself up by its bootstraps," the lawmakers have no choice but to find sufficient revenues to put through proposed school and road improvement programs.

Reapportionment proposals are scheduled for another airing next Tuesday in the House Redistricting Committee of Del. J. E. (Ned) Watson, D-Marion. Watson held a hearing last Thursday when he got an inkling of things to come.

Representatives from several small counties testified and, in effect, said "leave us alone" or consolidate small counties into new groupings large enough to qualify for their own delegates. Some sort of House reapportionment still appeared inevitable.

Dinner Scheduled

WESTERNPORT — The Volunteer Bible Class of Church of the Brethren will sponsor an achievement dinner Thursday at 6 p. m. in Fellowship Hall of the church.

Eastern Star Installs At Barton

BARTON — New officers of Barton Chapter No. 37, Order of Eastern Star, were installed a recent evening in the IOOF hall and "Obligation Night" will be observed at the meeting today.

Mrs. Alice Barnard was installed as worthy matron and Austin Michael as worthy patron. Serving with them are Mrs. Juanita Beachy, associate matron; George Kirkwood, associate patron; Mrs. Mildred Martin, secretary; Mrs. Ella Conn, treasurer; Mrs. Virginia Hoffa, conductress.

Mrs. Evelyn Michael, associate conductress; Mrs. Leona Kirkwood, chaplain; Mrs. Hilda Stafford, marshall; Mrs. Helen Kyle, organist; Mrs. Mary Ann Penman, Esther; Mrs. Della Ayres, warder; and J. Irvin Martin, sentinel. Other officers will be installed later.

Following the ceremony Ella Conn sang "For All You've Done" with Mrs. Dorothy Roberts at the piano. The junior past matron received her jewel and gifts were presented. Refreshments were served by the retiring worthy matron and patron. Mrs. Bernard spoke of her aims for the coming year and announced her motto, faith, her color, green, and her flower, rose and fern.

Committees to serve for the year are: ways and means — Juanita Beachy, Ella Conn, Mildred Martin, Helen Kyle, and Mary Ann Penman; refreshments — Leona Kirkwood, chairman, Kathleen Robertson, co-chairman, Helen Kroll, Virginia Hoffa, Helen Kyle, Hilda Stafford, Irvin Michael, and George Kirkwood; auditing — Leona Kirkwood, Virginia Hoffa, and Austin Michael; cheer — Ella Conn, Evelyn Michael, Mary Ann Penman, and Della Ayres; Cards — Virginia Hoffa; Prompter — Hilda Stafford; Examing — Evelyn Michael, Virginia Hoffa, and Irvin Martin; publicity — Evelyn Michael; temple — Mildred Martin; gifts — Evelyn Michael, Hilda Stafford; substitutes — Ada Kimble, Ruby Gattens; flowers, Alice Barnard.

WSCS Officers Meeting Slated

LONACONING — WSCS officers of churches in Lonaconing are invited to attend a meeting on January 30 at the home of Mrs. John McClain to make arrangements for the "World Day of Prayer" on March 1.

The Presbyterian Church will be host with Mrs. Leah Marsh in charge.

The WSCS of the Lonaconing Methodist Church met recently in the social room with Mrs. Hilda Philips in charge of devotions. Mrs. Katie Lohr read the scripture and Mrs. Mary Donald offered prayer.

Mrs. Martha Grindle presided at the business meeting at which time routine reports were given by the officers. A social hour was held.

New Creek, South Branch In Watershed Program

MORGANTOWN — West Virginia watershed development includes those at New Creek in nearby Mineral County and the South Branch of the Potomac River which involves more than 180,000 acres and 24 major structures.

Eight of the 24 have been completed, according to George Sharpe state extension soil conservation specialist of West Virginia University, who reports that an additional three are under construction, and a new one is to be started this year.

This watershed, he said, involves Hardy and Pendleton counties and a part of Virginia.

Another 180,000-acre project is the Patterson Creek watershed, which passed through the planning phase just last year. Initial construction of structures on this watershed will begin this year.

New Creek, Brush Creek, and Bond's Creek watersheds are all scheduled for completion in 1965. The New Creek operation will have 12 major structures on it. Construction on the Bond's Creek operation in Ritchie County was completed last year, and land treatment measures are to continue through 1965.

West Virginia now has more than 17,000 acres in completed watersheds and work is progressing on an additional 480,000 acres including eight projects now in the "operations" phase of development. This means that construction of the various flood preventive structures is underway, and that farmers are in the process of installing complimentary land treatments.

Barton Church Choir Election Is Held

William Brown Sr., was elected vice president; Delberta Schramm, secretary; and Maxine Snyder, treasurer. Committees appointed include Mary C. Miller, chairman, Wilma Miller and Ann Lamberson, ways and means; Jean Lamberson, publicity; Mary Kiddy, cards and flowers; and Kathy Ford, librarian.

Those attending were Rev. and Mrs. George Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Cross, Mr. and Mrs. William Brown Sr. and son, David, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kyle and daughter, Susan, Mrs. Maxine Snyder, Mrs. Delberta Schramm, Mrs. Mary Kiddy, Mrs. Jean Lamberson, Mrs. Wilma Miller, Miss Mary C. Miller, Miss Ann Lamberson, and Miss Kathy Ford.

Big Bill Casper Wins Bing Crosby Tournament By One Stroke

Apple Valley Pro Cards 285 To Cop $5,300

Nicklaus Loses Out On 18th; Five Tied For Runner-Up Spot

By HAL WOOD
UPI Sports Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (UPI) —Big Bill Casper, one of golf's great competitors, won the $50,000 Bing Crosby National Pro - Amateur tournament Sunday when National Open champion Jack Nicklaus three-putted the final green.

In early with a final round of 74 and a 72-hole score of 285, Casper sat and watched on television as Nicklaus scrambled his way to defeat on the 18th hole at Pebble Beach.

There still were many players on the course when Casper and Nicklaus finished, but none of them had a chance to catch the leaders.

In a wild day of wild scores, in which an estimated 40,000 fans romped over the course and delayed play so long that it took more than five hours to play a round, Casper won because nobody else could master old Pebble Beach, either.

Won $5,300

Casper picked up $5,300 for rounds of 73-65-73-74, while Nicklaus fell back into a five-way tie for second with Bob Rosburg, Davey Hill, Art Wall and Gary Player, each with 286.

"It was a tough course to whip today," said Player. "They had mean pin placements. And the crowds didn't help."

Casper figured he could have won by at least another stroke, except for the fact that on the 18th tee a man jumped off a railing and threw his shadow over Bill's golf ball just as he hit it. It so unnerved him that he pushed into a sand trap.

Despite the calm, beautiful weather, there wasn't a man among the leaders able to break 70. In fact, Arnold Palmer used up nine strokes on the 18th hole and came in with a 76 for a 293—far down the list.

Bob Duden, the third - round leader with the pendulum putter, had a chance to tie for the championship by sinking a 20-foot putt on the 18th. Instead he was a victim of three-putting and wound up with a 287.

Never Gave Up

Casper had one birdie and one bogey on the way out, the birdie coming on the second hole with a 12-foot putt. He bogied the eighth when he missed the green; and the 10th when he hit a trap, and it appeared he was just about out of business when he missed the green on the 12th and took another bogey.

But he never gave up and came back to tank a six-footer for a birdie on the 15th. However, he caught the trap on the 17th again for another bogey and didn't think he had a chance to win with Nicklaus still all even with two holes to play.

The pro-amateur championship, worth $3,000 to the pro, went to Doug Sanders and his amateur partner, Lloyd Pitzer, a seven handicapper from Pittsburgh, Pa. They posted a 257 score, with Pitzer helping his pro 31 shots.

Tied for second place, each collecting $2,250, were Duden and Tommy Jacobs, with their amateur partners, Ted Gleichmann, Ventura, Calif., and Wheeler Farish, Monterey, Calif., respectively.

St. Patrick's Routs Mt. Savage For Ninth Straight CYL Victory

Irish Romp, 80-20; St. Mary's And St. Michael's Win

Undefeated St. Patrick's of Cumberland went on its biggest scoring spree of the season yesterday afternoon, romping to an 80-20 win over St. Patrick's of Mt. Savage at the SS. Peter and Paul gymnasium.

In the second game of the doubleheader on the Fayette Street court, St. Mary's Gaels (6-3) strengthened their grip on third place with a 40-22 triumph over St. Ambrose. St. Michael's tripped St. Peter's of Westernport, 42-29, at Frostburg.

Yesterday's runaway victory was the ninth without a loss for the Fighting Irish, whose closest challengers (SS. Peter and Paul) were idle yesterday. The Flying Dutchmen are in second place with a 6-2 mark.

Coach Dick Boyle cleared his St. Patrick's bench, and no less than a dozen players figured in the scoring. Ricky Scaletta was high man with 24 points, and Tom Green and Glenn Cross had 12 apiece. Barth scored half of the losing team's tallies.

St. Mary's ran up a 24-3 advantage in the first half in breezing to its sixth decision. Ed Hollen led the Gael's attack with 14 points, while Floyd Skelley collected eight for St. Ambrose.

St. Michael's outscored the reeling St. Peter's cagers by an 18-7 margin in the second half to assume fourth place with a 5-4 record. The losers, who have dropped their last three starts, could have tied St. Michael's for fourth by winning.

Regis Arnold of St. Michael's also scored a big personal victory in the contest. Arnold, who went into the game leading Terry Davis by 11 points in the league scoring race, pumped in 16 points to Davis' one. Ryan was the top scorer for St. Peter's with 13 markers.

Arnold upped his league-leading total to 151 points in nine games, for an average of 16.8 per contest. Davis has scored 125 in eight games, and is averaging 15.6.

Palmer's Money Winning Streak Finally Halted

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Arnold Palmer's money-winning was stopped at 47 consecutive golf tournaments Sunday when he was disqualified from the $50,000 Bing Crosby Golf Tournament for improperly shooting and playing a provisional ball during Saturday's play.

Palmer apparently had finished with a 193, eight strokes behind winner Bill Casper, before the misinterpretation of the rules was discovered.

A professional Golf Association spokesman said another player brought up the infraction, but that Palmer readily admitted he should be disqualified when he realized how he had broken the rule.

Palmer's No. 2-iron tee shot hit the green, but continued over a hill and landed in a small tide-pool atop a large flat rock on the beach. Before coming to inspect the lie, Palmer hit a provisional shot, which landed just off the green.

When Palmer arrived near the green he decided the ball in the tide-pool was unplayable, so he continued with the provisional shot and took a 5 on the hole.

Joe Black, Tournament Supervisor, explained that a ball hit into the water does not permit the shooter to hit a provisional ball.

Palmer's only realistic legal alternative in his case would have been to return to the tee and shoot again, taking a stroke and distance penalty, since rocks extended to both sides and the rear of his lie.

Leafs Tie Wings

DETROIT (UPI)—Eddie Shack slammed in a third period goal Sunday night to counteract a last period two-goal rally by Detroit and give the Toronto Maple Leafs a hard-fought 2-2 National Hockey League tie with the Red Wings.

Trailing 1-0 going into the third period, the Red Wings brought the crowd of 14,549—the second largest of the season at Olympia—to its feet with goals by Parker MacDonald and Andre Pronovost to grab a 2-1 lead with nine minutes left in the game. Pronovost's was unassisted.

Nancy Roth Wins

SC Clubs Wage Close Fight For Playoff Berth

WVU Has Virtually Clinched Crown

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — A tight race is developing in the Southern Conference — a three-way battle to stay out of last place and earn a berth in the annual conference basketball tournament.

West Virginia, with eight wins and no defeats in the league, has just about clinched the conference title. The Mountaineers beat Virginia Tech, 86-83, in the only league game Saturday night to move well ahead in the conference.

The Mountaineers' nearest challengers — Davidson and George Washington — have each won only three of five conference games.

But down at the bottom of the nine-man team conference are Furman, Richmond and The Citadel. Each is battling to become one of the eight teams eligible for the tournament which gets underway Feb. 28.

Furman and Richmond are both 3-6 in the league and 6-10 overall and The Citadel is 2-4 in conference play and 2-11 overall.

Richmond and The Citadel have each beaten Furman in recent outings but the Paladins turned around last week and upset Virginia Tech at Blacksburg, Va.

Richmond, which lost to East Carolina, 62-50, in the only other game Saturday, has the toughest part of its league schedule coming up.

The Spiders meet West Virginia, Davidson, Tech, Virginia Military Institute and William and Mary after winter exams. Furman meets West Virginia, GW, VMI, The Citadel and Tech. The Citadel takes on William and Mary, GW, VMI, Furman and Davidson after exams.

All conference teams are idle this week until Saturday when VMI, West Virginia, The Citadel, VPI and Furman all play non-league games.

In last Saturday's West Virginia-Tech game, the scrappy Mountaineers had to battle from behind in the final minute to edge the hot-shooting Gobblers. Tech had lost three in a row going into the game but for a while it looked as if it would pull an upset.

But West Virginia came back when Mike Wolfe tosed in a field goal from 15 feet out with a minute left to put the Mountaineers ahead, 83-82. He added a foul shot seconds later and Bill Maphis sank two fouls to put West Virginia ahead to stay.

The standings:

	Conference W	Conference L	Overall W	Overall L
West Virginia	8	0	12	3
Davidson	3	2	10	5

Montreal Rallies To Tie Bruins, 3-3

BOSTON (UPI)—The Montreal Canadiens rallied from behind with three last period goals Sunday night to earn a 3-3 National Hockey League tie with the last place Boston Bruins.

The Canadiens, fighting to stay close to first place Chicago in the tight NHL race, spotted Boston a one-goal first period lead and two more in the second round before staging their long comeback.

Jean-Guy Talbot, Henri Richard and Ralph Backstrom scored the Canadien goals, the latter two coming within 34 seconds of each other in the middle of the third period.

Piedmont Travels To Beall For PVC Contest Tonight

Lions Can Grab Top Spot; FSTC Cops Ninth Win

Piedmont's roaring Lions will have an opportunity to take over the top spot in the Potomac Valley Conference standings tonight when they play Beall at Frostburg.

The Lions have won seven straight in the conference and are currently tied with Keyser for the lead. They scored an impressive 72-34 win over Beall at home early in the campaign, but the Mountaineers have improved considerably and could make things rough.

Three other high school contests are on tap tonight. Elk Garden is at Bayard for a PVC fray, Circleville travels to Harman, and Northern plays at Bruceton Mills.

Frostburg State scored an easy 88-46 triumph over Wheeling College Saturday at Frostburg. It was the Bobcats' 13th consecutive home court victory over a two-season span.

Catamounts Score

Potomac State College extended its win streak to four games Saturday with a 75-61 decision over Johnstown Center at Keyser, but Allegany Community College was less fortunate. The Trojans dropped their 11th straight to Altoona Campus, 81-68, at home.

In the only area high school game played Saturday, Beverly came from behind to nip Bayard, 54-52, at Bayard.

Hank Winner, who missed only three of a dozen shots from the floor, was top gunner with 19, George Lauder and Bill Wiltison scored 14 apiece, and Joe Nicewarner tossed in ten. The Bobcats shot at a torrid .515 pace, with 33 field goals in 64 attempts.

John Aluise led the Cardinals with 15 points.

Sweep Season Series

After trailing by two points at intermission (32-30), Potomac State's Catamounts roared back in the second half to chalk up their eighth win in 11 games. The victory also enabled them to sweep the season series with Johnstown, whom they beat by a 66-63 margin in the Pennsylvania city.

Dave Lawson sparked the Catamounts with 21 tallies, and Jim Courrier and Dave Felton collected 19 each. The visitors' Al Gibbs canned 14 before suffering a sprained ankle in the second half. Fran Ryse scored 11 and John Nezneski had ten for the Johnstown aggregation.

Luckless Allegany Community College put four men in double figures, but couldn't overcome the Pennsylvanians' potent one-two scoring punch of Chuck Robuck and Chuck Watkins. The former banged in 15 field goals and finished with 31 points, and Watkins fired in 23.

Glenn Larnerd led the Trojans with 20, Paul Yockus followed with 16, Jan Withrow scored 14 and Ronnie Riggs added a dozen.

A trio of Beverly cagers—Iseli, Pingley and Swecker, accounted for 41 of their team's 54 points as they sent Bayard down to its fifth loss in ten games. Iseli was high man with 18. Bill Kopfle scored 19 for Bayard.

New Englander, 64, Leads Senior Event

BELLEAIR, Fla. (AP)—A 64-year-old Marblehead, Mass., golfer bogeyed four holes but recouped well enough to lead the field of 187 Sunday in the first 18-hole qualifying for the 29th American Seniors Association Golf Tournament.

Bruce Coffin, runner-up in 1959, shot a 36-36—72, two strokes over par on a course made treacherous by gusty and erratic winds.

Another 18-hole qualifier is scheduled Monday before the field is broken down into flights for match play scheduled to continue through Saturday.

Set Ski Record

CHICAGO (AP) — Gene Kotlarek of Duluth, Minn., set a record by leaping 212 feet Sunday in the annual Norge Ski Club tournament at suburban Fox River Grove.

Kotlarek, 22, was the unofficial winner of the meet with leaps of 206 and 212 feet. His second effort wiped out the 1952 Norge record of 208 feet set by Art Tokle of Telemark Lake, N.J.

Also bettering Tokle's record was Norwegian Ole Tom Nord with efforts of 197 feet and 211 feet.

Sonny-Floyd Promoters Set Meeting Today

Return Bout Plans Should Be Made

NEW YORK (UPI)—Arrangements for the return Sonny Liston-Floyd Patterson heavyweight title fight at Miami Beach, April 4, should be concluded at two Miami Beach meetings Monday, Tom Bolan announced Sunday night.

Attorney Bolan, president of Championship Sports, Inc., (CSI), said "all parties concerned, except the fighters" will meet at 2 p.m. (EST) Monday with the Miami Beach City Council and at 6 p.m. with the Miami Beach Boxing Commission.

President Tom and his younger brother Al Bolan, the promoter, will represent CSI. Attorney Julius November of New York will represent ex-champion Patterson. From Chester, Pa., will come two representatives of champion Liston: Advisor Jack Nilon and attorney Garland Cherry.

Nilon and Liston are demanding that CSI pay Sonny $85,000 now from the remaining $207,000 due him from the Sept. 25th fight at Chicago, where Sonny took the title on a first-round knockout.

"There will not be any trouble about the $85,000," said President Tom, indicating that it will be paid.

Kennedy Thanks MacArthur For Mediating Dispute

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy Sunday expressed his gratitude to Gen. Douglas MacArthur for "so effectively and successfully" mediating the dispute between the AAU and the NCAA.

He also said that the general's willingness to settle any further points of controversy between the groups should assure high calibre U.S. athletics both at home and abroad.

Titans Say They'll Give VanderKelen $150,000 Contract

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rose Bowl hero Ron VanderKelen of the University of Wisconsin will be offered a no-cut, four-year contract for $150,000 to join the New York Titans, owner Harry Wismer said Sunday.

VanderKelen, whose sensational passing almost enabled Wisconsin to beat Southern California in the Rose Bowl, originally was offered a five-year pact at $125,000. Wismer said the "no-cut" clause would mean that VanderKelen would receive all the money even if he were injured and failed to play the four years.

Wismer also said that he is close to an agreement with Ted Barron of Springfield, Mass., to sell the Titans. Wismer said Barron's most recent offer was $1,700,000.

Big Bill Casper Wins Bing Crosby Tournament By One Stroke

Nicklaus Loses Out On 18th; Five Tied For Runner-Up Spot

By HAL WOOD
UPI Sports Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—Big Bill Casper, one of golf's great competitors, won the $50,000 Bing Crosby National Pro - Amateur tournament Sunday when National Open champion Jack Nicklaus three-putted the final green.

In early with a final round of 74 and a 72-hole score of 285, Casper sat and watched on television as Nicklaus scrambled his way to defeat on the 18th hole at Pebble Beach.

There still were many players on the course when Casper and Nicklaus finished, but none of them had a chance to catch the leaders.

In a wild day of wild scores, in which an estimated 40,000 fans romped over the course and delayed play so long that it took more than five hours to play a round, Casper won because nobody else could master old Pebble Beach, either.

Won $5,300

Casper picked up $5,300 for rounds of 73-65-73-74, while Nicklaus fell back into a five-way tie for second with Bob Rosburg, Davey Hill, Art Wall and Gary Player, each with 286.

"It was a tough course to whip today," said Player. "They had mean pin placements. And the crowds didn't help."

Casper figured he could have won by at least another stroke, except for the fact that on the 18th tee a man jumped off a railing and threw his shadow over Bill's golf ball just as he hit it. It so unnerved him that he pushed into a sand trap.

Despite the calm, beautiful weather, there wasn't a man among the leaders able to break 70. In fact, Arnold Palmer used up nine strokes on the 18th hole and came in with a 76 for a 293—far down the list.

Bob Duden, the third - round leader with the pendulum putter, had a chance to tie for the championship by sinking a 20-foot putt on the 18th. Instead he was a victim of three-putting and wound up with a 287.

Never Gave Up

Casper had one birdie and one bogey on the way out, the birdie coming on the second hole with a 12-foot putt. He bogied the eighth when he missed the green; and the 10th when he hit a trap, and it appeared he was just about out of business when he missed the green on the 12th and took another bogey.

But he never gave up and came back to tank a six-footer for a birdie on the 15th. However, he caught the trap on the 17th again for another bogey and didn't think he had a chance to win with Nicklaus still all even with two holes to play.

The pro-amateur championship, worth $3,000 to the pro, went to Doug Sanders and his amateur partner, Lloyd Pitzer, a seven handicapper from Pittsburgh, Pa. They posted a 257 score, with Pitzer helping his pro 31 shots.

Tied for second place, each collecting $2,250, were Duden and Tommy Jacobs, with their amateur partners, Ted Gleichmann, Ventura, Calif., and Wheeler Farish, Monterey, Calif., respectively.

Undefeated St. Patrick's of Cumberland went on its biggest scoring spree of the season yesterday afternoon, romping to an 80-20 win over St. Patrick's of Mt. Savage at the SS. Peter and Paul gymnasium.

In the second game of the doubleheader on the Fayette Street court, St. Mary's Gaels (6-3) strengthened their grip on third place with a 40-22 triumph over St. Ambrose. St. Michael's tripped St. Peter's of Westernport, 42-29, at Frostburg.

Yesterday's runaway victory was the ninth without a loss for the Fighting Irish, whose closest challengers (SS. Peter and Paul) were idle yesterday. The Flying Dutchmen are in second place with a 6-2 mark.

Coach Dick Boyle cleared his St. Patrick's bench, and no less than a dozen players figured in the scoring. Ricky Scaletta was high man with 24 points, and Tom Green and Glenn Cross had 12 apiece. Barth scored half of the losing team's tallies.

St. Mary's ran up a 24-3 advantage in the first half in breezing to its sixth decision. Ed Hollen led the Gael's attack with 14 points, while Floyd Skelley collected eight for St. Ambrose.

St. Michael's outscored the reeling St. Peter's cagers by an 18-7 margin in the second half to assume fourth place with a 5-4 record. The losers, who have dropped their last three starts, could have tied St. Michael's for fourth by winning.

Regis Arnold of St. Michael's also scored a big personal victory in the contest. Arnold, who went into the game leading Terry Davis by 11 points in the league scoring race, pumped in 16 points to Davis' one. Ryan was the top scorer for St. Peter's with 13 markers.

Arnold upped his league-leading total to 151 points in nine games, for an average of 16.8 per contest. Davis has scored 125 in eight games, and is averaging 15.6.

Palmer's Money Winning Streak Finally Halted

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Arnold Palmer's money-winning was stopped at 47 consecutive golf tournaments Sunday when he was disqualified from the $50,000 Bing Crosby Golf Tournament for improperly shooting and playing a provisional ball during Saturday's play.

Palmer apparently had finished with a 193, eight strokes behind winner Bill Casper, before the misinterpretation of the rules was discovered.

A professional Golf Association spokesman said another player brought up the infraction, but that Palmer readily admitted he should be disqualified when he realized how he had broken the rule.

Palmer's No. 2-iron tee shot hit the green, but continued over a hill and landed in a small tide-pool atop a large flat rock on the beach. Before coming to inspect the lie, Palmer hit a provisional shot, which landed just off the green.

When Palmer arrived near the green he decided the ball in the tide-pool was unplayable, so he continued with the provisional shot and took a 5 on the hole.

Joe Black, Tournament Supervisor, explained that a ball hit into the water does not permit the shooter to hit a provisional ball.

Palmer's only realistic legal alternative in his case would have been to return to the tee and shoot again, taking a stroke and distance penalty, since rocks extended to both sides and the rear of his lie.

Leafs Tie Wings

DETROIT (UPI)—Eddie Shack slammed in a third period goal Sunday night to counteract a last period two-goal rally by Detroit and give the Toronto Maple Leafs a hard-fought 2-2 National Hockey League tie with the Red Wings.

Trailing 1-0 going into the third period, the Red Wings brought the crowd of 14,549—the second largest of the season at Olympia—to its feet with goals by Parker MacDonald and Andre Pronovost to grab a 2-1 lead with nine minutes left in the game. Pronovost's was unassisted.

Nancy Roth Wins

SC Clubs Wage Close Fight For Playoff Berth

WVU Has Virtually Clinched Crown

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — A tight race is developing in the Southern Conference — a three-way battle to stay out of last place and earn a berth in the annual conference basketball tournament.

West Virginia, with eight wins and no defeats in the league, has just about clinched the conference title. The Mountaineers beat Virginia Tech, 86-83, in the only league game Saturday night to move well ahead in the conference.

The Mountaineers' nearest challengers — Davidson and George Washington — have each won only three of five conference games.

But down at the bottom of the nine-man team conference are Furman, Richmond and The Citadel. Each is battling to become one of the eight teams eligible for the tournament which gets underway Feb. 28.

Furman and Richmond are both 3-6 in the league and 6-10 overall and The Citadel is 2-4 in conference play and 2-11 overall.

Richmond and The Citadel have each beaten Furman in recent outings but the Paladins turned around last week and upset Virginia Tech at Blacksburg, Va.

Richmond, which lost to East Carolina, 62-50, in the only other game Saturday, has the toughest part of its league schedule coming up.

The Spiders meet West Virginia, Davidson, Tech, Virginia Military Institute and William and Mary after winter exams. Furman meets West Virginia, GW, VMI, The Citadel and Tech. The Citadel takes on William and Mary, GW, VMI, Furman and Davidson after exams.

All conference teams are idle this week until Saturday when VMI, West Virginia, The Citadel, VPI and Furman all play non-league games.

In last Saturday's West Virginia-Tech game, the scrappy Mountaineers had to battle from behind in the final minute to edge the hot-shooting Gobblers. Tech had lost three in a row going into the game but for a while it looked as if it would pull an upset.

But West Virginia came back when Mike Wolfe tosed in a field goal from 15 feet out with a minute left to put the Mountaineers ahead, 83-82. He added a foul shot seconds later and Bill Maphis sank two fouls to put West Virginia ahead to stay.

The standings:

	Conference		Overall
West Virginia	8	0	12	3
Davidson	3	2	10	5
Geo. Wash.	3	2	5	8
Va. Tech	3	3	6	7

Wm. & Mary	4	5	8	7
Furman	3	6	6	10
Richmond	3	6	6	10
The Citadel	2	4	2	11

Games this week:

Jan. 26 — VMI at Marshall; West Virginia at Duke; The Citadel at N. C. State; Virginia Tech at Virginia; and Furman at Clemson.

Montreal Rallies To Tie Bruins, 3-3

BOSTON (UPI)—The Montreal Canadiens rallied from behind with three last period goals Sunday night to earn a 3-3 National Hockey League tie with the last place Boston Bruins.

The Canadiens, fighting to stay close to first place Chicago in the tight NHL race, spotted Boston a one-goal first period lead and two more in the second round before staging their long comeback.

Jean-Guy Talbot, Henri Richard and Ralph Backstrom scored the Canadien goals, the latter two coming within 34 seconds of each other in the middle of the third period.

Piedmont Travels To Beall For PVC Contest Tonight

Lions Can Grab Top Spot; FSTC Cops Ninth Win

Piedmont's roaring Lions will have an opportunity to take over the top spot in the Potomac Valley Conference standings tonight when they play Beall at Frostburg.

The Lions have won seven straight in the conference and are currently tied with Keyser for the lead. They scored an impressive 72-34 win over Beall at home early in the campaign, but the Mountaineers have improved considerably and could make things rough.

Three other high school contests are on tap tonight. Elk Garden is at Bayard for a PVC fray, Circleville travels to Harman, and Northern plays at Bruceton Mills.

Frostburg State scored an easy 88-46 triumph over Wheeling College Saturday at Frostburg. It was the Bobcats' 13th consecutive home court victory over a two-season span.

Catamounts Score

Potomac State College extended its win streak to four games Saturday with a 75-61 decision over Johnstown Center at Keyser, but Allegany Community College was less fortunate. The Trojans dropped their 11th straight to Altoona Campus, 81-68, at home.

In the only area high school game played Saturday, Beverly came from behind to nip Bayard, 54-52, at Bayard.

Hank Winner, who missed only three of a dozen shots from the floor, was top gunner with 19, George Lauder and Bill Wiltison scored 14 apiece, and Joe Nicewarner tossed in ten. The Bobcats shot at a torrid .515 pace, with 33 field goals in 64 attempts. John Aluise led the Cardinals with 15 points.

Sweep Season Series

After trailing by two points at intermission (32-30), Potomac State's Catamounts roared back in the second half to chalk up their eighth win in 11 games. The victory also enabled them to sweep the season series with Johnstown, whom they beat by a 66-63 margin in the Pennsylvania city.

Dave Lawson sparked the Catamounts with 21 tallies, and Jim Courrier and Dave Felton collected 19 each. The visitors' Al Gibbs canned 14 before suffering a sprained ankle in the second half. Fran Ryse scored 11 and John Nezneski had ten for the Johnstown aggregation.

Luckless Allegany Community College put four men in double figures, but couldn't overcome the Pennsylvanians' potent one-two scoring punch of Chuck Robuck and Chuck Watkins. The former banged in 15 field goals and finished with 31 points, and Watkins fired in 23.

Glenn Larnerd led the Trojans with 20, Paul Yockus followed with 16, Jan Withrow scored 14 and Ronnie Riggs added a dozen.

A trio of Beverly cagers—Iseli, Pingley and Swecker, accounted for 41 of their team's 54 points as they sent Bayard down to its fifth loss in ten games. Iseli was high man with 18. Bill Kopfle scored 19 for Bayard.

New Englander, 64, Leads Senior Event

BELLEAIR, Fla. (AP)—A 64-year-old Marblehead, Mass., golfer bogeyed four holes but recouped well enough to lead the field of 187 Sunday in the first 18-hole qualifying for the 29th American Seniors Association Golf Tournament.

Bruce Coffin, runner-up in 1959, shot a 36-36—72, two strokes over par on a course made treacherous by gusty and erratic winds.

Another 18-hole qualifier is scheduled Monday before the field is broken down into flights for match play scheduled to continue through Saturday.

Set Ski Record

CHICAGO (AP) — Gene Kotlarek of Duluth, Minn., set a record by leaping 212 feet Sunday in the annual Norge Ski Club tournament at suburban Fox River Grove.

Kotlarek, 22, was the unofficial winner of the meet with leaps of 206 and 212 feet. His second effort wiped out the 1952 Norge record of 208 feet set by Art Tokle of Telemark Lake, N.J.

Also bettering Tokle's record was Norwegian Ole Tom Nord with efforts of 197 feet and 211 feet.

Sonny-Floyd Promoters Set Meeting Today

Return Bout Plans Should Be Made

NEW YORK (UPI)—Arrangements for the return Sonny Liston-Floyd Patterson heavyweight title fight at Miami Beach, April 4, should be concluded at two Miami Beach meetings Monday, Tom Bolan announced Sunday night.

Attorney Bolan, president of Championship Sports, Inc., (CSI), said "all parties concerned, except the fighters" will meet at 2 p.m. (EST) Monday with the Miami Beach City Council and at 6 p.m. with the Miami Beach Boxing Commission.

President Tom and his younger brother Al Bolan, the promoter, will represent CSI. Attorney Julius November of New York will represent ex-champion Patterson. From Chester, Pa., will come two representatives of champion Liston: Advisor Jack Nilon and attorney Garland Cherry.

Nilon and Liston are demanding that CSI pay Sonny $85,000 now from the remaining $207,000 due him from the Sept. 25th fight at Chicago, where Sonny took the title on a first-round knockout.

"There will not be any trouble about the $85,000," said President Tom, indicating that it will be paid.

Kennedy Thanks MacArthur For Mediating Dispute

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy Sunday expressed his gratitude to Gen. Douglas MacArthur for "so effectively and successfully" mediating the dispute between the AAU and the NCAA.

He also said that the general's willingness to settle any further points of controversy between the groups should assure high calibre U.S. athletics both at home and abroad.

Titans Say They'll Give VanderKelen $150,000 Contract

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rose Bowl hero Ron VanderKelen of the University of Wisconsin will be offered a no-cut, four-year contract for $150,000 to join the New York Titans, owner Harry Wismer said Sunday.

VanderKelen, whose sensational passing almost enabled Wisconsin to beat Southern California in the Rose Bowl, originally was offered a five-year pact at $125,000. Wismer said the "no-cut" clause would mean that VanderKelen would receive all the money even if he were injured and failed to play the four years.

Wismer also said that he is close to an agreement with Ted Barron of Springfield, Mass., to sell the Titans. Wismer said Barron's most recent offer was $1,700,000.

Buckeyes' Chances Of Repeating In Big Ten Given Severe Jolt

Iowa Wins Over Ohio State By Score Of 81-74

Loyola Cops 15th, Cincy And Illinois To Clash Saturday

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State's chances of repeating as Big Ten Conference basketball champions suffered a severe jolt Saturday when Iowa knocked off the Buckeyes 81-74. Perhaps the Bucks weren't going anywhere, anyway. Illinois, leading the loop with a 4-0 record, had beaten Ohio State earlier this month.

But the Buckeyes, who went right down to the finals of last year's NCAA tournament before bowing to Cincinnati in the title game, were expected to have better mileage left in the old machine.

Iowa had lost eight and won only five games before tackling the Bucks at Iowa City. In the conference, the Hawkeyes had beaten only Wisconsin, losing to Illinois, Michigan and Minnesota.

Iowa rallied from a 16-point deficit to upset Ohio State, with Andy Hankins and Dave Roach sparking a second half drive with 22 and 19 points, respectively. Joe Reddington added 21.

Semester examinations kept many of the top teams in cram sessions, including top ranked Cincinnati, Illinois, No. 3, and Duke, No. 5. Cincinnati had whipped Bradley earlier in the week 52-46 for a 14-0 record.

Illinois, 12-1, had downed Northwestern 78-76, and Duke, 12-2, wasn't scheduled. Duke, tied for the Atlantic Coast Conference lead with Wake Forest, both 6-0, meets West Virginia next Saturday.

Sun Devils Lose

Three other members of the top 10 in last week's Associated Press poll also ran into difficulties. Arizona State of Tempe, No. 4, beat New Mexico, but Wyoming upset the Sun Devils at Laramie, Wyo., Saturday 88-81. It left Arizona State 15-2 nationally, and with a shaky 3-1 hold on the Western Athletic Conference lead.

Mississippi State, 12-3, defeated seventh rated Georgia Tech 81-69 on Monday, but the Engineers whipped Florida State Saturday in a non-league fray 70-55. Mississippi State, 4-1, remained at the head of the Southeastern Conference heap by downing Mississippi 78-64, with Auburn 3-1 and Georgia Tech [illegible]-1.

And Wichita, No. 8, was beaten by Tulsa Tuesday 85-83. Wichita came back Saturday to down Drake 68-60 for a 11-4 over-all record. With Cincinnati leading the Missouri Valley race 4-0, Wichita now is 3-2, with St. Louis sandwiched in between at 3-1.

Loyola Is Unbeaten

Loyola of Chicago, meanwhile, rolled along unbeaten at 15-0, belting Kent State 96-55 for its 16th consecutive victory. It was no great feat, however, for the nation's No. 2 ranked club, since it was Kent's 10th defeat in 11 games.

West Virginia, No. 9, beat Penn State early in the week, then cemented its Southern Conference lead by overcoming Virginia Tech Saturday, 86-83. The Mountaineers are 8-0 in the league, and 12-3 for the season.

Stanford, meanwhile, assumed a strong position in the Big Six Conference, winning two straight from Washington. After defeating the Huskies Friday 57-48, the Indians won again Saturday 58-49 for a 3-0 league mark. Washington is next at 3-3 and California is 2-2, and Stanford—No. 10 nationally—is 12-3 over-all.

Cincy Plays Illini

The big game this week as far as the leading teams are concerned comes Saturday at Chicago Stadium where Cincinnati tangles with Illinois. Both rest until Saturday. Loyola of Chicago meets Ohio U. Monday, and then meets Santa Clara in the other half of Saturday's Chicago Stadium program. Santa Clara tops the West Coast Athletic Conference 3-0.

Several other highly-rated outfits were shocked Saturday. Canisius, beaten only by Arizona State, was edged by St. Bonaventure 71-69 on Fred Crawford's jump shot at the gun and Dayton downed DePaul 57-56. Kentucky's Southeastern Conference hopes were rudely shattered by Tennessee in overtime, 78-69.

Penn Leads Ivy Loop

Pennsylvania, upset Friday by Cornell, trounced Columbia Saturday 86-66 to lead the Ivy loop, 4-1. Idle Yale is 3-1. North Carolina took Virginia 86-81, Oregon State defeated Gonzaga 63-47, Temple edged Villanova 50-49, and Auburn won in overtime from Alabama, 81-78.

Numbered among the idle were Bradley, Colorado, Idaho, New York U., Providence, Seattle, St. Joseph's, Pa., UCLA and Wake Forest.

Birds Sign Brown

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dick Brown, a catcher acquired in an off-season trade with the Detroit Tigers, has signed his 1963 contract with the Baltimore Orioles.

Brown, 27, was the regular catcher for Detroit last season. He hit 12 home runs and collected 40 runs-batted-in in 134 games.

Plans For New Stadium At Pittsburgh Hit Snag

Commissioners Feel Money Can Be Used For Other Projects

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Opposition by the Allegheny County Commissioners to contributing $5.7 million towards a municipal sports stadium confronted the city Sunday with the possibility of losing its major league baseball and football franchises.

Democrats William D. McClelland, commission chairman, and John E. McGrady, in a letter to the Allegheny Conference on Community Development, said they opposed the present plan for financing the $23 million plant and felt the money could be better spent on other projects.

The move drew sharp reaction from varied sources.

General Manager Joe L. Brown of the Pirates said the Commissioners' stand, which would drastically set back the projected 1966 completion date, might force the club to move to another city.

"Without a stadium in the foreseeable future Pittsburgh could face the loss of the Pirates and probably the Steelers," Brown said. "We can't stay at Forbes Field forever."

Forbes Field, home of the Pirates since 1909, currently is owned by the University of Pittsburgh which leases it to both the Pirates and Steelers, who have been in the National Football League since 1933.

The Pirates have committed $2 million to the project, which will cost a total of $45 million, including land acquisition. They also have pledged to lease the plant for 40 years at $627,500 a year.

"Certainly our lease on the proposed new stadium would guarantee the annual payment of bonds," Brown said.

Steeler president Art Rooney, who has turned down numerous offers to move the club elsewhere, said he was disappointed and did not "understand this at all." Rooney said he hoped the commissioners would "change their minds."

Warriors Lose, Wilt Is Ejected

St. Louis Defeats 'Frisco, 116-115

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) —The St. Louis Hawks grabbed a slim lead in the fourth quarter Sunday and held on for a 116-115 National Basketball Association win over the San Francisco Warriors in a game marked by the ejection of league-leading scorer Wilt Chamberlain.

Chamberlain was tossed out with less than five minutes gone in the first period after protesting a foul call against teammate Wayne Hightower. Referee Red Oates said Chamberlain was ejected for "unsportsman-like conduct."

The Warriors played the rest of the game under protest.

The Warriors led until Len Wilkins tied the score at the end of the third period. The Hawks broke in front in the fourth quarter after the lead changed hands several times.

Douglass Cards 19 On 10th Hole In Crosby Golf

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Professional golfer Dale Douglass of Lakewood, Colo., carded a near unbelievable 19 on the 10th hole of the Pebble Beach course during Sunday's final round of the Bing Crosby tournament.

"It's kind of a blur," the lanky young pro admitted when asked about the horrendous hole.

"I know my tee shot lodged in the bank of a cliff. I tried to hit it about three times. Finally, it rolled back to the beach and an unplayable lie. I took the first of about eight penalty strokes.

"Everytime I hit the ball, it would slam into the bank and roll back to be half buried. Finally, it had to put it on a piece of ice plant to hit it out of there.

"Joe Campbell was playing with me and helped me count the strokes. I just can't remember all of them. I was on the green in 17 and two-putted. And I was trying my best on all the shots, but you just couldn't get any footing."

The 19 equalled the worst ever shot in the Crosby. Hans Merrill of Mogadore, Ohio, had the score on the 16th hole at Cypress Point a couple of years ago.

Celtics Snap Laker Streak

Russell Sparks 133-121 Triumph

BOSTON (UPI)—Big Bill Russell dominated the backboards Sunday as the Boston Celtics defeated the Los Angeles Lakers, 133-121, snapping an 11-game National Basketball Association victory streak for the Western Division leaders.

The Celts, trailing 98-96 after three periods, netted 12 straight points in the beginning of the fourth quarter and held the Lakers scoreless for the first five minutes and 40 seconds of the period as they ran up a 115-105 lead.

Before Sunday's game, Los Angeles had won 11 consecutive games since Dec. 26. The Celtics set the current NBA winning-streak record in 1959 with 17 straight.

Elgin Baylor, who ended with 40 points for game-scoring honors, netted 11 points in the third period to put Los Angeles ahead 98-96.

At the opening of the final quarter, Tom Heinsohn and Sam Jones scored, K C.. Jones sank a pair of foul shots, Heinshohn and Sam Jones each scored again and Russell got two fouls to give Boston a 108-98 lead before Dick Barnett registered the first Laker points of the period at 5:40 with two free throws.

Six Marks Fall In Invitational At Los Angeles

Bruce Kidd Breaks Two-Mile Record

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A swift-sprinting Los Angeles girl stole the honors from heroes of the gruelling distance tests as one-half dozen meet marks fell in Los Angeles' fourth annual Invitational Indoor track and field event.

There was no need to rewrite the indoor records—but a packed house of 13,386 in the Sports Arena got an exciting show Saturday night from start to finish.

Grelle out-dueled Lt. Cary Weisiger of the Camp Pendleton, Calif., Marines in 4:04.3, bettering the meet recordof 4:04.8 by Jim Beatty a year ago.

The biggest ovation of the evening went to Canada's 19-year-old Bruce Kidd, the young man who runs as if he was about to fly apart.

The initial upset came when 18-year-old Marilyn White of the Los Angeles Mercurettes won the 60-yard dash, leaving America's Olympic Games triple Gold Medal winner, Wilma Rudolph, to finish third.

Rushing into second was Jutta Heine, a statuesque blonde from Cologne in West Germany. This must not be Wilma's track. A teammate from Tennessee State A&I, Jean Holmes, upset her here last year.

Kidd's teammate from the East York Track Club of Toronto, Bill Crothers, was one of the six to set meet records. He won the 1,000-yard event easily in 2:08.9.

Welu Is Leader In Tournament

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Billy Welu of St. Louis rolled into first place in the qualifying rounds of the All-Star Bowling Tournament Sunday with a record 16-game total of 3,673.

Welu, 29, who won this classic in 1959, shattered a record set less than 2 hours earlier by Deck Weber of St. Louis, the defending champion. Weber's 16-game total of 3,520 erased the 3,507 mark set last year by Roy Lown of El Paso, Tex.

Barnum Is Victor Over Harbert, Snow In Golf Playoff

PORT ST. LUCIE, Fla. (AP)—Big, long-hitting John Barnum strokes a methodical birdie 4 on the first hole of a sudden death playoff Sunday to beat Chick Harbert and Ansel Snow for the PGA National Golf Club Championship.

The three veteran pros finished the regulation 72 holes deadlocked with 281, seven under par for the 7,010-yard Port St. Lucie Country Club course.

Snow hit first in the playoff and his tee shot sailed into the rough on the left of the fairway. His second fell into a sand trap and he was on in three, 12 feet away from the cup on the 525-yard hole.

Harbert's drive plunked into a sand trap on the right of the fairway 200 yards from the green and his second hit another trap short of the green. He blasted out to within 10 feet of the hole.

Barnum lashed a beautiful shot straight down the fairway, hit the green with his second and won with a 2-foot birdie putt as his opponents two-putted the green.

Bucs Sign Rookies

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The Pittsburgh Pirates announced Sunday the signing to 1963 contracts of two rookies.

Becoming the 15th and 16th Pirates to agree to terms were Ron Woods, a 20-year-old outfielder from Compton, Calif., and 19-year-old Carl Taylor, a catcher from Sarasota, Fla.

Woods batted .313 and hit 21 home runs last year in 100 games for Batavia of the New York-Pennsylvania League. Taylor, step brother of outfielder Boog Powell of the Baltimore Orioles, batted .246 in 40 games last year for Kingsport, Tenn., of the Rookie Appalachian League.

Buckeyes' Chances Of Repeating In Big Ten Given Severe Jolt

Iowa Wins Over Ohio State By Score Of 81-74

Loyola Cops 15th, Cincy And Illinois To Clash Saturday

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State's chances of repeating as Big Ten Conference basketball champions suffered a severe jolt Saturday when Iowa knocked off the Buckeyes 81-74. Perhaps the Bucks weren't going anywhere, anyway. Illinois, leading the loop with a 4-0 record, had beaten Ohio State earlier this month.

But the Buckeyes, who went right down to the finals of last year's NCAA tournament before bowing to Cincinnati in the title game, were expected to have better mileage left in the old machine.

Iowa had lost eight and won only five games before tackling the Bucks at Iowa City. In the conference, the Hawkeyes had beaten only Wisconsin, losing to Illinois, Michigan and Minnesota.

Iowa rallied from a 16-point deficit to upset Ohio State, with Andy Hankins and Dave Roach sparking a second half drive with 22 and 19 points, respectively. Joe Reddington added 21.

Semester examinations kept many of the top teams in cram sessions, including top ranked Cincinnati, Illinois, No. 3, and Duke, No. 5. Cincinnati had whipped Bradley earlier in the week 52-46 for a 14-0 record.

Illinois, 12-1, had downed Northwestern 78-76, and Duke, 12-2, wasn't scheduled. Duke, tied for the Atlantic Coast Conference lead with Wake Forest, both 6-0, meets West Virginia next Saturday.

Sun Devils Lose

Three other members of the top 10 in last week's Associated Press poll also ran into difficulties. Arizona State of Tempe, No. 4, beat New Mexico, but Wyoming upset the Sun Devils at Laramie, Wyo., Saturday 88-81. It left Arizona State 15-2 nationally, and with a shaky 3-1 hold on the Western Athletic Conference lead.

Mississippi State, 12-3, defeated seventh rated Georgia Tech 81-69 on Monday, but the Engineers whipped Florida State Saturday in a non-league fray 70-55. Mississippi State, 4-1, remained at the head of the Southeastern Conference heap by downing Mississippi 78-64, with Auburn 3-1 and Georgia Tech 3-1.

And Wichita, No. 8, was beaten by Tulsa Tuesday 85-83. Wichita came back Saturday to down Drake 68-60 for a 11-4 over-all record. With Cincinnati leading the Missouri Valley race 4-0, Wichita now is 3-2, with St. Louis sandwiched in between at 3-1.

Loyola Is Unbeaten

Loyola of Chicago, meanwhile, rolled along unbeaten at 15-0, belting Kent State 96-55 for its 16th consecutive victory. It was no great feat, however, for the nation's No. 2 ranked club, since it was Kent's 10th defeat in 11 games.

West Virginia, No. 9, beat Penn State early in the week, then cemented its Southern Conference lead by overcoming Virginia Tech Saturday, 86-83. The Mountaineers are 8-0 in the league, and 12-3 for the season.

Stanford, meanwhile, assumed a strong position in the Big Six Conference, winning two straight from Washington. After defeating the Huskies Friday 57-48, the Indians won again Saturday 58-49 for a 3-0 league mark. Washington is next at 3-3 and California is 2-2, and Stanford—No. 10 nationally—is 12-3 over-all.

Cincy Plays Illini

The big game this week as far as the leading teams are concerned comes Saturday at Chicago Stadium where Cincinnati tangles with Illinois. Both rest until Saturday. Loyola of Chicago meets Ohio U. Monday, and then meets Santa Clara in the other half of Saturday's Chicago Stadium program. Santa Clara tops the West Coast Athletic Conference 3-0.

Several other highly-rated outfits were shocked Saturday. Canisius, beaten only by Arizona State, was edged by St. Bonaventure 71-69 on Fred Crawford's jump shot at the gun and Dayton downed DePaul 57-56. Kentucky's Southeastern Conference hopes were rudely shattered by Tennessee in overtime, 78-69.

Penn Leads Ivy Loop

Pennsylvania, upset Friday by Cornell, trounced Columbia Saturday 86-66 to lead the Ivy loop, 4-1. Idle Yale is 3-1. North Carolina took Virginia 86-81, Oregon State defeated Gonzaga 63-47, Temple edged Villanova 50-49, and Auburn won in overtime from Alabama, 81-78.

Numbered among the idle were Bradley, Colorado, Idaho, New York U., Providence, Seattle, St. Joseph's, Pa., UCLA and Wake Forest.

Birds Sign Brown

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dick Brown, a catcher acquired in an off-season trade with the Detroit Tigers, has signed his 1963 contract with the Baltimore Orioles.

Brown, 27, was the regular catcher for Detroit last season. He hit 12 home runs and collected 40 runs-batted-in in 134 games.

Plans For New Stadium At Pittsburgh Hit Snag

Commissioners Feel Money Can Be Used For Other Projects

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Opposition by the Allegheny County Commissioners to contributing $5.7 million towards a municipal sports stadium confronted the city Sunday with the possibility of losing its major league baseball and football franchises.

Democrats William D. McClelland, commission chairman, and John E. McGrady, in a letter to the Allegheny Conference on Community Development, said they opposed the present plan for financing the $23 million plant and felt the money could be better spent on other projects.

The move drew sharp reaction from varied sources.

General Manager Joe L. Brown of the Pirates said the Commissioners' stand, which would drastically set back the projected 1966 completion date, might force the club to move to another city.

"Without a stadium in the foreseeable future Pittsburgh could face the loss of the Pirates and probably the Steelers," Brown said. "We can't stay at Forbes Field forever."

Forbes Field, home of the Pirates since 1909, currently is owned by the University of Pittsburgh which leases it to both the Pirates and Steelers, who have been in the National Football League since 1933.

The Pirates have committed $2 million to the project, which will cost a total of $45 million, including land acquisition. They also have pledged to lease the plant for 40 years at $627,500 a year.

"Certainly our lease on the proposed new stadium would guarantee the annual payment of bonds," Brown said.

Steeler president Art Rooney, who has turned down numerous offers to move the club elsewhere, said he was disappointed and did not "understand this at all." Rooney said he hoped the commissioners would "change their minds."

Warriors Lose, Wilt Is Ejected

St. Louis Defeats 'Frisco, 116-115

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) —The St. Louis Hawks grabbed a slim lead in the fourth quarter Sunday and held on for a 116-115 National Basketball Association win over the San Francisco Warriors in a game marked by the ejection of league-leading scorer Wilt Chamberlain.

Chamberlain was tossed out with less than five minutes gone in the first period after protesting a foul call against teammate Wayne Hightower. Referee Red Oates said Chamberlain was ejected for "unsportsman-like conduct."

The Warriors played the rest of the game under protest.

The Warriors led until Len Wilkins tied the score at the end of the third period. The Hawks broke in front in the fourth quarter after the lead changed hands several times.

Douglass Cards 19 On 10th Hole In Crosby Golf

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Professional golfer Dale Douglass of Lakewood, Colo., carded a near unbelievable 19 on the 10th hole of the Pebble Beach course during Sunday's final round of the Bing Crosby tournament.

"It's kind of a blur," the lanky young pro admitted when asked about the horrendous hole.

"I know my tee shot lodged in the bank of a cliff. I tried to hit it about three times. Finally, it rolled back to the beach and an unplayable lie. I took the first of about eight penalty strokes.

"Everytime I hit the ball, it would slam into the bank and roll back to be half buried. Finally, it had to put it on a piece of ice plant to hit it out of there.

"Joe Campbell was playing with me and helped me count the strokes. I just can't remember all of them. I was on the green in 17 and two-putted. And I was trying my best on all the shots, but you just couldn't get any footing."

The 19 equalled the worst ever shot in the Crosby. Hans Merrill of Mogadore, Ohio, had the score on the 16th hole at Cypress Point a couple of years ago.

Douglass didn't lose his composure and shot even par for the final eight holes, finishing with a 92 and a 317 for 72 holes.

Asked his age, Douglass replied, "I'm 27. No, I'm 26. I'm having trouble counting."

DENIES BETTING—NFL quiz into gambling has brought the name of Carroll Rosenbloom (above), owner of the Baltimore Colts, into the news following a newspaper's story that sealed testimony in an ex-gambler's unsuccessful law suit against Rosenbloom has been turned over to Commissioner Pete Rozelle. Rosenbloom, according to his attorney, has denied betting on Baltimore games.

Celtics Snap Laker Streak

Russell Sparks 133-121 Triumph

BOSTON (UPI)—Big Bill Russell dominated the backboards Sunday as the Boston Celtics defeated the Los Angeles Lakers, 133-121, snapping an 11-game National Basketball Association victory streak for the Western Division leaders.

The Celts, trailing 98-96 after three periods, netted 12 straight points in the beginning of the fourth quarter and held the Lakers scoreless for the first five minutes and 40 seconds of the period as they ran up a 115-105 lead.

Before Sunday's game, Los Angeles had won 11 consecutive games since Dec. 26. The Celtics set the current NBA winning-streak record in 1959 with 17 straight.

Russell grabbed 43 rebounds as Boston took its second game in five meetings with the Lakers this season.

Elgin Baylor, who ended with 40 points for game-scoring honors, netted 11 points in the third period to put Los Angeles ahead 98-96.

At the opening of the final quarter, Tom Heinsohn and Sam Jones scored, K C.. Jones sank a pair of foul shots, Heinshohn and Sam Jones each scored again and Russell got two fouls to give Boston a 108-98 lead before Dick Barnett registered the first Laker points of the period at 5:40 with two free throws.

Six Marks Fall In Invitational At Los Angeles

Bruce Kidd Breaks Two-Mile Record

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A swift-sprinting Los Angeles girl stole the honors from heroes of the gruelling distance tests as one-half dozen meet marks fell in Los Angeles' fourth annual Invitational Indoor track and field event.

There was no need to rewrite the indoor records—but a packed house of 13,386 in the Sports Arena got an exciting show Saturday night from start to finish.

Grelle out-dueled Lt. Cary Weisiger of the Camp Pendleton, Calif., Marines in 4:04.3, bettering the meet recordof 4:04.8 by Jim Beatty a year ago.

The biggest ovation of the evening went to Canada's 19-year-old Bruce Kidd, the young man who runs as if he was about to fly apart.

Kidd ran off with the 2-mile grind in 8:43.8, eclipsing the meet record of 8:53.2 held by Laszlo Tabori.

The initial upset came when 18-year-old Marilyn White of the Los Angeles Mercurettes won the 60-yard dash, leaving America's Olympic Games triple Gold Medal winner, Wilma Rudolph, to finish third.

Rushing into second was Jutta Heine, a statuesque blonde from Cologne in West Germany. This must not be Wilma's track. A teammate from Tennessee State A&I, Jean Holmes, upset her here last year.

The time was 0:6.9, and the upset gained athlete of the meet honors for the tiny 117-pound Marilyn.

Kidd's teammate from the East York Track Club of Toronto, Bill Crothers, was one of the six to set meet records. He won the 1,000-yard event easily in 2:08.9.

Ex-world outdoor pole vault champion Dave Tork aimed at an attempt to set a national indoor mark of 16 feet, 2 inches, but had to settle for a meet mark of 15 8½.

Welu Is Leader In Tournament

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Billy Welu of St. Louis rolled into first place in the qualifying rounds of the All-Star Bowling Tournament Sunday with a record 16-game total of 3,673.

The former champion bowled a 223-290-256-206—975 series to boost his average for the fist four days of qualifying to almost 230.

Welu, 29, who won this classic in 1959, shattered a record set less than 2 hours earlier by Deck Weber of St. Louis, the defending champion. Weber's 16-game total of 3,520 erased the 3,507 mark set last year by Roy Lown of El Paso, Tex.

Barnum Is Victor Over Harbert, Snow In Golf Playoff

PORT ST. LUCIE, Fla. (AP)—Big, long-hitting John Barnum strokes a methodical birdie 4 on the first hole of a sudden death playoff Sunday to beat Chick Harbert and Ansel Snow for the PGA National Golf Club Championship.

The three veteran pros finished the regulation 72 holes deadlocked with 281, seven under par for the 7,010-yard Port St. Lucie Country Club course.

Snow hit first in the playoff and his tee shot sailed into the rough on the left of the fairway. His second fell into a sand trap and he was on in three, 12 feet away from the cup on the 525-yard hole.

Harbert's drive plunked into a sand trap on the right of the fairway 200 yards from the green and his second hit another trap short of the green. He blasted out to within 10 feet of the hole.

Barnum lashed a beautiful shot straight down the fairway, hit the green with his second and won with a 2-foot birdie putt as his opponents two-putted the green.

Bucs Sign Rookies

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The Pittsburgh Pirates announced Sunday the signing to 1963 contracts of two rookies.

Becoming the 15th and 16th Pirates to agree to terms were Ron Woods, a 20-year-old outfielder from Compton, Calif., and 19-year-old Carl Taylor, a catcher from Sarasota, Fla.

Woods batted .313 and hit 21 home runs last year in 100 games for Batavia of the New York-Pennsylvania League. Taylor, step brother of outfielder Boog Powell of the Baltimore Orioles, batted .246 in 40 games last year for Kingsport, Tenn., of the Rookie Appalachian League.

Assistance Program Open For Farmers

The 1963 Agricultural Conservation Program is now open for Allegany County farmers to request assistance on 14 conservation practices. The farmers can file a request for government cost-sharing by visiting the local ASCS office, 126 Union Street.

The available practices include seeding of permanent legumes and grasses on land not now in suitable vegetative cover; application of liming material; establishment of contour strip-cropping; planting of trees; developing springs or seeps for livestock water; improvement of a stand of forest trees; consruction of sod waterways; establishment of permanent vegetation as a preventive against erosion and establishing diversion terraces.

Through the ACP program any landowner, operator or tenant who has a conservation problem which can not be met with his own resources, may request the local ASC county committee to provide a share of the cost of needed conservation practices.

Under this program individual farmers form a partnership with the federal government which shares about half of the actual cost of carrying out practices. On some of these the government pays 80 per cent of the cost.

Song Service Set February 10

The Allegany County Song Service will hold its fourth session Sunday, February 10 at 2:30 p.m. at Kingsley Methodist Church on Williams Street, when 150 new song books will be distributed.

The group held a son service recently at Zion Methodist Church and representatives of 20 churches took part, according to Rev. William C. Harpold, president.

Singers from outside Allegany County and from nearby states have been attending the service and the group plans to change its name to the Tri-State Hymn Sing.

Thoroughfare

He said Bedford and Frederick streets serve as arterials now with relatively minor improvements can serve for many years to come. Other arterials, such as Greene Street and Williams Street, will also need some improvement but will serve.

Mr. Joyner said that many of the streets which are overtaxed now will be adequate once the Thruway is operating and certain improvements are made in access points along the Thruway.

Improvements Needed

Improvements will be needed in most cases for present streets which will serve as collectors in post-thruway days.

He said Baltimore Avenue, now an arterial, will become a collector street.

In many cases, he explained, needed improvements in collectors can be made simply by removing parking at a fraction of the cost of widening streets. In other cases, both parking restrictions and widening may be needed.

Another alternative is to distribute the traffic load over two or three streets which lead to arterials.

Gray Ladies To Organize Volunteers

The Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross Gray Ladies, has announced it plans to form an organization of Gray Lady volunteers here.

The announcement was made at a recent meeting of the chapter at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

A committee also was appointed to prepare policy booklets which will be submitted at the next meeting for approval and distribution. Members of the committee are Mrs. Margaret Gladstone, Mrs. Dorthea Wickard, Mrs. Meredith Riffle, Mrs. Betty Chaney and Mrs. Dennis Donahue.

Reports from chairmen on hours worked at the hospitals during the last six months by the Gray Ladies showed Mrs. Edward Naughton, Gray Lady chairman, has served a total of 220 hours at Sacred Heart. Eleven volunteers put in 955 hours at Sacred Heart during that period. Besides Mrs. Naughton, Mrs. Ruth Hartman served 123 hours, Mrs. Margaret Gladstone, and Mrs. Juanita Smith, 105 hours each.

Eleven volunteers served 192 hours at Memorial Hospital for the same period. Leading these Gray Ladies were Mrs. Dorothy Wickard, 87 hours, Mrs. Joseph Feldstein and Mrs. A. J. Wallace, 68 hours each.

A new schedule for visits to the local hospitals and the infirmary was completed and is effective immediately.

The next meeting will be held in April at the Fort Cumberland.

Others attending were Mrs. Sara G. Lindsay, executive secretary, four guests, Mrs. Robert Blair, Mrs. Joseph Ragioni, Mrs. Jean Walls and Mrs. Elmo Bollman; Mrs. Pauline College, Mrs. Geraldine Gideon, Mrs. Doris Marks, Mrs. Jennie Peebles, Mrs. Mary Roberts, Mrs. Hazel Shinnamon, Miss Eleanor White, Mrs. Clara Williamson, and Mrs. Grace Wallis.

Presbyterians Plan Father-Son Dinner

The Men's Club of First Presbyterian Church will sponsor its annual father-son dinner Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. in the fellowship hall.

Following the dinner will be a program featuring Duke Stern, local magician, who has presented a number of shows in Cumberland in the past several months. Reservations should be made by contacting the church office at PA 2-4950.

Rt. 40 Group

this has been spent. Governor Tawes has included another $100,000 in his recommended budget for the park this year. In addition, some $125,000 will be appropriated for development of plans for 10 or 12 of these state parks, including Rocky Gap.

With this planning money, the state will be able to determine the desirable land needed for the park, where a dam might be located for the creation of a lake for fishing, boating and swimming and much other information needed for the proper development.

Mr. O'Donnell pointed out that there has been a wide range in the recommendations for Rocky Gap. Some have proposed acquiring about 2,200 acres, mostly in undeveloped woodland. Others have proposed as much as 3,400 acres including some farm land and other improved property. Cost of land acquisition estimates have ranged from $96,000 to as much as $630,000.

In conclusion, he urged the people of Allegany County to do their part to see that the area is protected through proper zoning and that the land costs are kept to sensible proportions.

Assembly

He argued that when a number of institutions are under a single board there is a tendency to develop similar programs. He believes the state should have a number of colleges with varied emphasis in their curricula.

Gov. Tawes, like the Legislative Council, in effect has approved only the principles of the Curlett commission report. This leaves plenty of room for changes in detail before any final settlement in the legislature.

The results of a former study by a commission were not submitted to the legislature during Tawes' first term. That would have converted the teacher colleges into branches of the University of Maryland instead of supervision by the Department of Education.

The governor chose only to make the transition at Frostburg. But the move failed in the House Education Committee, whose chairman at the time was Lee.

The chairman of the previous commission, Edwin Warfield III, has since become a Democratic member of the House from Howard County.

Assistance Program Open For Farmers

The 1963 Agricultural Conservation Program is now open for Allegany County farmers to request assistance on 14 conservation practices. The farmers can file a request for government cost-sharing by visiting the local ASCS office, 126 Union Street.

The available practices include seeding of permanent legumes and grasses on land not now in suitable vegetative cover; application of liming material; establishment of contour strip-cropping; planting of trees; developing springs or seeps for livestock water; improvement of a stand of forest trees; consruction of sod waterways; establishment of permanent vegetation as a preventive against erosion and establishing diversion terraces.

Other practices are constructing detention dams; constructing open drainage ditches; constructing tile drainage ditches, cover crops for winter protection and improvement of established vegetative cover.

Through the ACP program any landowner, operator or tenant who has a conservation problem which can not be met with his own resources, may request the local ASC county committee to provide a share of the cost of needed conservation practices.

Under this program individual farmers form a partnership with the federal government which shares about half of the actual cost of carrying out practices. On some of these the government pays 80 per cent of the cost.

Song Service Set February 10

The Allegany County Song Service will hold its fourth session Sunday, February 10 at 2:30 p.m. at Kingsley Methodist Church on Williams Street, when 150 new song books will be distributed.

The group held a son service recently at Zion Methodist Church and representatives of 20 churches took part, according to Rev. William C. Harpold, president.

Singers from outside Allegany County and from nearby states have been attending the service and the group plans to change its name to the Tri-State Hymn Sing.

He said Bedford and Frederick streets serve as arterials now with relatively minor improvements can serve for many years to come. Other arterials, such as Greene Street and Williams Street, will also need some improvement but will serve.

Mr. Joyner said that many of the streets which are overtaxed now will be adequate once the Thruway is operating and certain improvements are made in access points along the Thruway.

Improvements Needed

Improvements will be needed in most cases for present streets which will serve as collectors in post-thruway days.

He said Baltimore Avenue, now an arterial, will become a collector street.

In many cases, he explained, needed improvements in collectors can be made simply by removing parking at a fraction of the cost of widening streets. In other cases, both parking restrictions and widening may be needed.

Another alternative is to distribute the traffic load over two or three streets which lead to arterials.

Gray Ladies To Organize Volunteers

The Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross Gray Ladies, has announced it plans to form an organization of Gray Lady volunteers here.

The announcement was made at a recent meeting of the chapter at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

A committee also was appointed to prepare policy booklets which will be submitted at the next meeting for approval and distribution. Members of the committee are Mrs. Margaret Gladstone, Mrs. Dorthea Wickard, Mrs. Meredith Riffle, Mrs. Betty Chaney and Mrs. Dennis Donahue.

Reports from chairmen on hours worked at the hospitals during the last six months by the Gray Ladies showed Mrs. Edward Naughton, Gray Lady chairman, has served a total of 220 hours at Sacred Heart. Eleven volunteers put in 955 hours at Sacred Heart during that period. Besides Mrs. Naughton, Mrs. Ruth Hartman served 123 hours, Mrs. Margaret Gladstone, and Mrs. Juanita Smith, 105 hours each.

Eleven volunteers served 192 hours at Memorial Hospital for the same period. Leading these Gray Ladies were Mrs. Dorothy Wickard, 87 hours, Mrs. Joseph Feldstein and Mrs. A. J. Wallace, 68 hours each.

A complete report from the County Infirmary was not available.

Bars were presented to several members of the group who worked 150 hours during the past year.

A new schedule for visits to the local hospitals and the infirmary was completed and is effective immediately.

The next meeting will be held in April at the Fort Cumberland.

Others attending were Mrs. Sara G. Lindsay, executive secretary, four guests, Mrs. Robert Blair, Mrs. Joseph Ragioni, Mrs. Jean Walls and Mrs. Elmo Bollman; Mrs. Pauline College, Mrs. Geraldine Gideon, Mrs. Doris Marks, Mrs. Jennie Peebles, Mrs. Mary Roberts, Mrs. Hazel Shinnamon, Miss Eleanor White, Mrs. Clara Williamson, and Mrs. Grace Wallis.

Presbyterians Plan Father-Son Dinner

The Men's Club of First Presbyterian Church will sponsor its annual father-son dinner Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. in the fellowship hall.

Following the dinner will be a program featuring Duke Stern, local magician, who has presented a number of shows in Cumberland in the past several months. Reservations should be made by contacting the church office at PA 2-4950.

this has been spent. Governor Tawes has included another $100,000 in his recommended budget for the park this year. In addition, some $125,000 will be appropriated for development of plans for 10 or 12 of these state parks, including Rocky Gap.

With this planning money, the state will be able to determine the desirable land needed for the park, where a dam might be located for the creation of a lake for fishing, boating and swimming and much other information needed for the proper development.

Mr. O'Donnell pointed out that there has been a wide range in the recommendations for Rocky Gap. Some have proposed acquiring about 2,200 acres, mostly in undeveloped woodland. Others have proposed as much as 3,400 acres including some farm land and other improved property. Cost of land acquisition estimates have ranged from $96,000 to as much as $630,000.

In conclusion, he urged the people of Allegany County to do their part to see that the area is protected through proper zoning and that the land costs are kept to sensible proportions.

Assembly

primarily to teaching arts and sciences.

He argued that when a number of institutions are under a single board there is a tendency to develop similar programs. He believes the state should have a number of colleges with varied emphasis in their curricula.

Gov. Tawes, like the Legislative Council, in effect has approved only the principles of the Curlett commission report. This leaves plenty of room for changes in detail before any final settlement in the legislature.

The results of a former study by a commission were not submitted to the legislature during Tawes' first term. That would have converted the teacher colleges into branches of the University of Maryland instead of supervision by the Department of Education.

The governor chose only to make the transition at Frostburg. But the move failed in the House Education Committee, whose chairman at the time was Lee.

The chairman of the previous commission, Edwin Warfield III, has since become a Democratic member of the House from Howard County.

Funk Predicts Early Start On Thruway

Contract May Be Let Late This Year

Start of construction on the Cumberland Thruway and the last remaining poor roadway on U.S. Route 40 between Cumberland and Hancock can be expected late in 1963 or early in 1964, according to John B. Funk, chairman-director of the State Roads Commission.

Although Mr. Funk delved only lightly into Allegany County projects in his prepared remarks for a throng of 470 persons at a Route 40 Association dinner last night at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, he became more specific when questions were directed to him near the end of the meeting.

Concerning the Cumberland Thruway, Mr. Funk said in response to a question, that it now appears feasible to do the $21,000,000 job all in one project. He expects that the contract may be let in late 1963 or early 1964.

A similar response was given by Mr. Funk when he was asked about new Route 40 construction between Fifteen-Mile Creek, some 20 miles east of Cumberland, and Hancock, nearly 40 miles east of here.

Outlines Problems

In his prepared remarks, Mr. Funk pointed out that a number of road problems have descended upon Maryland officials. They include "what to do about the amazing growth which has occurred in the Baltimore-Washington area, how to prepare the Eastern Shore and Southern Maryland for both business and tidewater recreation and how to build muscle into the beautiful mountainous counties of Western Maryland."

In solving Western Maryland road problems, the chairman-director of the State Roads Commission said, the immediate aim was to remove "those cork-screw sections of road which made a trip into Western Maryland a dangerous, time-consuming and tiring journey."

That task should be finished with the completion of projects he enumerated, which he said will be started this year. These include the Town Hill-Green Ridge relocation, now under way, which will provide approximately seven miles of dual highway at a cost of over $5 million, the interstate route from Hancock into Hagerstown and relocation work around Hancock as well as Route 40 work near Route 220, not far from the Shrine club where he was speaking.

Interstate Possibility

Mr. Funk stressed in his remarks that there must be no weak link in the Route 40 chain. A newly-built section of Route 40 in Washington County or Garrett County is almost as important as a road "at your back door."

Although he couched his words in qualifying language, Mr. Funk said in answer to another question that there is a "definite possibility" that Route 40 west of Hancock might yet be added to the interstate highway system. He urged interested groups in Allegany County to continue to push toward this goal.

Edward Habeeb, president of the Route 40 Association, extended a welcome and introduced Attorney General Thomas B. Finan, who was the toastmaster. Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. Lawrence Kilkenny, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, delivered the invocation and benediction.

The Steckman Dance Studio presented a revue to conclude the evening's entertainment.

Eagle Scout Review Board Next Week

An Eagle Scout board of review will be held Monday, January 28, at 7:30 p. m. at council headquarters, 417 North Mechanic Street.

Explorers and scouts who wish to be reviewed next week should turn in their applications to the council office.

Bill Proposes Use Of Schools For Recreation

The Allegany County Physical Fitness Commission has been asked to endorse Senate Bill 67, which would keep the premises and buildings of public schools throughout Maryland open during daylight hours for physical activities.

Mrs. Verda Welcome, the new state senator from Baltimore City's Fourth District, introduced the bill.

This requirement to keep the facilities open, as proposed by Senator Welcome, applies to all weekdays including Saturdays, but would exclude Sundays and legal holidays, when the public schools are not normally in academic session.

"On such days, the playground and recreation facilities of the schools shall be kept open and available during reasonable daylight hours for supervised public play and recreation; and, in relation to the needs and facilities of the neighboring community, such portion of each building as may be useful or necessary for the purpose also shall be kept open and available during reasonable daylight hours for supervised public play and recreation and for supplementary educational or social uses," the bill states.

Red Cross Staff Aide Course Slated Thursday

A training course for volunteers interested in staff aide work with Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross, will be held Thursday at 1 p. m. at the chapter office, Post Office Building.

Mrs. Sara G. Lindsay, executive secretary, said the course is being held primarily to train staff aides to work in the chapter office. The course covers the actual work and responsibilities of the staff aides, shows where records and supplies are kept, and other important details of Red Cross work.

An orientation to Red Cross work will be held January 31 at 10 a. m. at the Red Cross office. This session is necessary to all Red Cross volunteer service. Anyone who has previously taken the orientation need not repeat the course at this time.

Upon completion of the course and 10 hours of on-the-job training a new staff aides will receive a certificate and will be entitled to wear the Red Cross uniform and service pin.

Mrs. Lindsay said that some knowledge of typing is important to staff aide work. Women interested in becoming volunteer staff aides should notify the Red Cross by tomorrow if they will take the training course.

The orientation course on January 31 may be taken by staff aide volunteers and women interested in becoming Gray Ladies.

20-Year Plan Would Double Road Funds

If the 20-year road study plan is approved by the General Assembly in Annapolis this year, Allegany County and its subdivisions could expect to average $8,760,444 a year for road construction and maintenance compared with the $4,529,988 averaged between 1957 and 1959.

A chart which appeared on the stage at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club last night explained this although it was not discussed by John B. Funk, chairman-director of the State Roads Commission, in his remarks to the Route 40 Association.

In the 1957-59 triennium, the state highway system averaged spending $3,453,671 annually in Allegany County. Under the 20-year plan the county could average $6,269,000 annually for the state highway system construction and maintenance.

During the 1957-59 period, the county highway system averaged $472,724 but would get $1,313,796 annually under the 20-year plan. Finally, the municipal highway system received $603,593 a year in the 1957-59 period but could expect $1,177,648 under the 20-year plan.

83 Per Cent Of First Graders Are Examined

Eighty-three per cent of the first graders attending Allegany County public schools received a medical examination by December 31, according to figures compiled by the State Commission on Physical Fitness.

Although 14 of Maryland's 23 counties had a higher percentage of first graders examined, Allegany County still was ahead of the state average.

Figures released by Dr. Leo Klein, administrative assistant to the state commission, who was here last Wednesday to meet with the Allegany County Physical Fitness Commission showed that only 50,711 or 71.8 per cent of Maryland's 70,631 first graders had a medical examination by the end of 1962.

One big reason for the small state-wide percentage is that only 6,217 or 35.2 of the 20,897 Baltimore City first graders had physical examinations.

Allegany County has 1,337 first graders and 1,129 had an examination by the end of the year. Dr. Klein's report reveals that half of those examined in this county were checked by their family doctor and the other half by the Health Department.

The state report predicts that counties reporting 80 to 95 per cent examined will reach close to the 100 per cent goal by the end of the school year in June.

Nine counties reported 100 per cent examinations. These included Anne Arundel, Caroline, Charles, Dorchester, Kent, Prince George's, Queen Anne's, Wicomico and Worcester. Others ahead of Allegany were Frederick, 96 per cent; St. Mary's, 93; Montgomery, 91, Cecil, 90; Baltimore, 88. Talbot matched Allegany with 83 per cent of its 514 first graders examined.

Below Allegany were Washington, with 81 per cent of its 1,886; Carroll, 75; Somerset, 66; Harford, 61; Calvert, 50; Garrett, 50 per cent of its 486, and Howard, 20 per cent.

The first objective of the State Commission on Physical Fitness is to encourage all elementary and secondary schools to provide a physical education program which includes four basic concepts. The first of these is that every child should have a medical examination with proper follow through upon entrance to school and periodically at least three times during the rest of his school career.

Taxpayers who make joint returns may also take advantage of the bond option.

Rt. 40 Group Asks $500,000 For Rocky Gap

O'Donnell Outlines Plans For Park

A resolution urging Governor J. Millard Tawes to grant $500,000 for the proposed Rocky Gap State Park at the foot of Martin Mountain was adopted last night at the annual Ladies Night dinner of the Route 40 Association attended by some 470 leaders of Allegany County.

This resolution was presented by Herman L. Myers, secretary of Cumberland Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and was adopted without a dissenting vote.

It was pointed out in the resolution that the need for recreational facilities in Cumberland and Allegany County is long overdue of fulfillment. Development of the park was recommended as likely to do much toward boosting the economy of Cumberland and Allegany County.

"Be it resolved, that this capacity group representing the heart of Cumberland and Allegany County in industry, business, labor, banking, civic, fraternal and veterans' organizations, go on record to appeal to the honorable Governor of Maryland, J. Millard Tawes, to support the Rocky Gap State Park to the fullest and to completely favor the granting the full amount of the request of $500,000 for the project."

O'Donnell Explains

Immediately after the adoption of this resolution, Attorney General Thomas B. Finan, who served as toastmaster, introduced James J. O'Donnell of Baltimore, director of the State Planning Commission and chairman of the state parks' master plan committee, who explained how the plan for developing the state park east of Cumberland has evolved.

In prefacing his remarks, Mr. O'Donnell cited the growth of Maryland parks between 1950 and 1960. In that 10-year span the acreage expanded 265 per cent, from 4,970 acres to 18,122 acres. Attendance surged 391 per cent, from 776,000 in 1950 to 3,800,000 in 1960.

During the 12 years since 1950, some $12.5 million has been spent for acquisition of state park lands, and Mr. O'Donnell said $8.8 million has been spent in the last four years.

There have been tremendous pressures from throughout the state for development of state parks. This master plan committee, of which F. Perry Smith Jr. of Cumberland is a member, eventually recommended Rocky Gap as one of 15 regional type state parks in Maryland. This committee also endorsed 10 smaller areas as recreational areas and five historical sites.

$100,000 In Budget

Mr. O'Donnell pointed out that $100,000 was appropriated in 1962 for land acquisition for the Rocky Gap State Park and very little of

Man Seeks Data About John Hart, Civil War Hero

A Gettysburg, Pa., man has written to Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon seeking information about a John W. Hart who won the Medal of Honor for gallantry in action at Gettysburg, July 2, 1863.

F. Harmon Furney, a post office clerk, wrote that he was doing research on the Battle of Gettysburg.

He has information that John W. Hart married Christina Stark in Cumberland and they lived at 91 Highland Street. They had six children, William H., Eurelia M., Minnie L., Louis W., George T., and Anna C. Hart. Mr. Hart died June 2, 1908 and Mrs. Hart died November 16, 1926.

Mr. Furney would like to hear from any one who might have any information regarding this family. He has a picture of six men and believes one to be Mr. Hart.

Any one who has any information may contact this newspaper, or Mr. Conlon at the post office.

Thoroughfare Proposal Will Be Presented

Planning Unit Will Get Refined Report

A further refinement of the proposed thoroughfare plan for the City of Cumberland will be presented by Blair and Stein Associates, the city's planning firm, this week.

The updating of an outline presented at the December meeting will be presented by John R. Joyner, city planner, at the meeting scheduled Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in City Hall.

Mr. Joyner said the report will be concerned with three types of streets — the Cumberland Thruway; arterial streets which are subject to heavy traffic and bring traffic to the center of the city, and finally, collectors, streets which serve various sections of the city and allow residents to get to the arterial streets.

He said the Thruway plan is being studied in detail to see what improvements may be suggested to the State Roads Commission for interchanges and access points.

May Change Plan

Plans of the Urban Renewal Agency for improvements in the business section, he said, may take certain changes in access feasible to facilitate the movement of traffic in the downtown area.

Still under study, Mr. Joyner said, are the arterial streets. The Industrial Boulevard segment of the Thruway, he said, will be a very important arterial street.

Assembly Sees More Haggling Over Colleges

Hearing Scheduled For Thursday

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Some more haggling is scheduled this week before the Maryland Legislature over a way to promote general education in state colleges.

The second suggested approach within four years by a study commission is to be up Thursday for questioning before the House and Senate education committees.

Bickering is expected over at least two details. Morgan State is opposed to losing its own board of trustees. Other individuals are dissatisfied with a proposed advisory board for all higher education in Maryland.

No argument is anticipated that the state should take new steps to plan for the booming increase in the number of would-be college students.

It is estimated that Maryland high schools will graduate 23,000 in 1975 compared with 10,000 in 1961. The anticipated number of students wanting to attend public colleges is 53,000 — 30,000 more than two years ago.

Curlett Report Under Study

A commission headed by John N. Curlett envisions a tri-partite organization for development of higher education.

A new board of nine trustees would be responsible for the five teacher colleges and Morgan. A division primarily responsible for the two-year community colleges would be established within the State Department of Education. The University of Maryland would continue to be managed by its own board of regents.

The Curlett commission also recommended that the three segments voluntarily form an advisory board from their own ranks.

Blair Lee III, a commission member and former delegate, objected and urged that the advisory board be part of state law with a required number of members representing the public.

His arguments were repeated by two members of the Legislative Council, Del. A. Gordon Boone and Sen. William S. James, presiding officers in the House and Senate respectively, this year.

However, the subject probably will be pursued at Thursday's hearing. The American Association of University Women also has voiced objections to the proposed make-up of the advisory board.

Dr. Martin D. Jenkins, another member of the Curlett Commission and president of Morgan, also dissented from part of the majority report.

Dr. Jenkins' Objection

His battle will be carried forward in the legislature by Sen. Verda Welcome, D-Balto 4th.

Dr. Jenkins felt that the new single board would be preoccupied with bringing the teacher colleges up to the status of other liberal arts institutions. Morgan, he said, is second in size only to the University of Maryland as a state institution and already is devoted

It was contributed by John Hilderbrandt of Akron in memory of deceased members of his family. Mr. Eicher, carilloneur for yesterday's dedicatory service, is organist and choir director at Grace Methodist Church in Baltimore, which has a similar carillon.

Funk Predicts Early Start On Thruway

Contract May Be Let Late This Year

Start of construction on the Cumberland Thruway and the last remaining poor roadway on U.S. Route 40 between Cumberland and Hancock can be expected late in 1963 or early in 1964, according to John B. Funk, chairman-director of the State Roads Commission.

Although Mr. Funk delved only lightly into Allegany County projects in his prepared remarks for a throng of 470 persons at a Route 40 Association dinner last night at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, he became more specific when questions were directed to him near the end of the meeting.

Concerning the Cumberland Thruway, Mr. Funk said in response to a question, that it now appears feasible to do the $21,000,000 job all in one project. He expects that the contract may be let in late 1963 or early 1964.

A similar response was given by Mr. Funk when he was asked about new Route 40 construction between Fifteen-Mile Creek, some 20 miles east of Cumberland, and Hancock, nearly 40 miles east of here.

Outlines Problems

In his prepared remarks, Mr. Funk pointed out that a number of road problems have descended upon Maryland officials. They include "what to do about the amazing growth which has occurred in the Baltimore-Washington area, how to prepare the Eastern Shore and Southern Maryland for both business and tidewater recreation and how to build muscle into the beautiful mountainous counties of Western Maryland."

In solving Western Maryland road problems, the chairman-director of the State Roads Commission said, the immediate aim was to remove "those cork-screw sections of road which made a trip into Western Maryland a dangerous, time-consuming and tiring journey."

That task should be finished with the completion of projects he enumerated, which he said will be started this year. These include the Town Hill-Green Ridge relocation, now under way, which will provide approximately seven miles of dual highway at a cost of over $5 million, the interstate route from Hancock into Hagerstown and relocation work around Hancock as well as Route 40 work near Route 220, not far from the Shrine club where he was speaking.

Interstate Possibility

Mr. Funk stressed in his remarks that there must be no weak link in the Route 40 chain. A newly-built section of Route 40 in Washington County or Garrett County is almost as important as a road "at your back door."

Although he couched his words in qualifying language, Mr. Funk said in answer to another question that there is a "definite possibility" that Route 40 west of Hancock might yet be added to the interstate highway system. He urged interested groups in Allegany County to continue to push toward this goal.

Edward Habeeb, president of the Route 40 Association, extended a welcome and introduced Attorney General Thomas B. Finan, who was the toastmaster. Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. Lawrence Kilkenny, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, delivered the invocation and benediction.

Taxpayers May Take Refunds In Savings Bonds

This year, for the first time, taxpayers can receive tax refunds in U. S. Savings Bonds. Lynn C. Lashley, Allegany County Bond Chairman, said citizens may indicate their choice by putting an X in the appropriate box on the new tax form.

The Treasury will issue the smallest possible number of E bonds of the largest possible denominations to cover the amount of the refund. It there's anything left over, a check will be written for the balance.

Taxpayers who make joint returns may also take advantage of the bond option.

Church Dedicates Carillon

Neil D. Caner, left, vice president of the Schulmerich company, explains electronic controls of the new carillon at St. Luke's Lutheran Church to Bruce Eicher of Baltimore, carilloneur; Rev. Dr. J. Frank Fife, president of the Maryland Synod, and Rev. Vernon I. Naugle, pastor, as the church dedicated the carillon yesterday. It was contributed by John Hilderbrandt of Akron in memory of deceased members of his family. Mr. Eicher, carilloneur for yesterday's dedicatory service, is organist and choir director at Grace Methodist Church in Baltimore, which has a similar carillon.

Rt. 40 Group Asks $500,000 For Rocky Gap

O'Donnell Outlines Plans For Park

A resolution urging Governor J. Millard Tawes to grant $500,000 for the proposed Rocky Gap State Park at the foot of Martin Mountain was adopted last night at the annual Ladies Night dinner of the Route 40 Association attended by some 470 leaders of Allegany County.

This resolution was presented by Herman L. Myers, secretary of Cumberland Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and was adopted without a dissenting vote.

It was pointed out in the resolution that the need for recreational facilities in Cumberland and Allegany County is long overdue of fulfillment. Development of the park was recommended as likely to do much toward boosting the economy of Cumberland and Allegany County.

The resolution concluded with these words:

"Be it resolved, that this capacity group representing the heart of Cumberland and Allegany County in industry, business, labor, banking, civic, fraternal and veterans' organizations, go on record to appeal to the honorable Governor of Maryland, J. Millard Tawes, to support the Rocky Gap State Park to the fullest and to completely favor the granting the full amount of the request of $500,000 for the project."

O'Donnell Explains

Immediately after the adoption of this resolution, Attorney General Thomas B. Finan, who served as toastmaster, introduced James J. O'Donnell of Baltimore, director of the State Planning Commission and chairman of the state parks' master plan committee, who explained how the plan for developing the state park east of Cumberland has evolved.

In prefacing his remarks, Mr. O'Donnell cited the growth of Maryland parks between 1950 and 1960. In that 10-year span the acreage expanded 265 per cent, from 4,970 acres to 18,122 acres. Attendance surged 391 per cent, from 776,000 in 1950 to 3,800,000 in 1960.

During the 12 years since 1950, some $12.5 million has been spent for acquisition of state park lands, and Mr. O'Donnell said $8.8 million has been spent in the last four years.

There have been tremendous pressures from throughout the state for development of state parks. This master plan committee, of which F. Perry Smith Jr. of Cumberland is a member, eventually recommended Rocky Gap as one of 15 regional type state parks in Maryland. This committee also endorsed 10 smaller areas as recreational areas and five historical sites.

$100,000 In Budget

Mr. O'Donnell pointed out that $100,000 was appropriated in 1962 for land acquisition for the Rocky Gap State Park and very little of

Man Seeks Data About John Hart, Civil War Hero

A Gettysburg, Pa., man has written to Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon seeking information about a John W. Hart who won the Medal of Honor for gallantry in action at Gettysburg, July 2, 1863.

F. Harmon Furney, a post office clerk, wrote that he was doing research on the Battle of Gettysburg.

He has information that John W. Hart married Christina Stark in Cumberland and they lived at 91 Highland Street. They had six children, William H., Eurelia M., Minnie L., Louis W., George T., and Anna C. Hart. Mr. Hart died June 2, 1908 and Mrs. Hart died November 16, 1926.

Mr. Furney would like to hear from any one who might have any information regarding this family. He has a picture of six men and believes one to be Mr. Hart.

Any one who has any information may contact this newspaper, or Mr. Conlon at the post office.

Thoroughfare Proposal Will Be Presented

Planning Unit Will Get Refined Report

A further refinement of the proposed thoroughfare plan for the City of Cumberland will be presented by Blair and Stein Associates, the city's planning firm, this week.

The updating of an outline presented at the December meeting will be presented by John R. Joyner, city planner, at the meeting scheduled Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in City Hall.

Mr. Joyner said the report will be concerned with three types of streets — the Cumberland Thruway; arterial streets which are subject to heavy traffic and bring traffic to the center of the city, and finally, collectors, streets which serve various sections of the city and allow residents to get to the arterial streets.

He said the Thruway plan is being studied in detail to see what improvements may be suggested to the State Roads Commission for interchanges and access points.

May Change Plan

Plans of the Urban Renewal Agency for improvements in the business section, he said, may take certain changes in access feasible to facilitate the movement of traffic in the downtown area.

Still under study, Mr. Joyner said, are the arterial streets. The Industrial Boulevard segment of the Thruway, he said, will be a very important arterial street.

Assembly Sees More Haggling Over Colleges

Hearing Scheduled For Thursday

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Some more haggling is scheduled this week before the Maryland Legislature over a way to promote general education in state colleges.

The second suggested approach within four years by a study commission is to be up Thursday for questioning before the House and Senate education committees.

Bickering is expected over at least two details. Morgan State is opposed to losing its own board of trustees. Other individuals are dissatisfied with a proposed advisory board for all higher education in Maryland.

No argument is anticipated that the state should take new steps to plan for the booming increase in the number of would-be college students.

It is estimated that Maryland high schools will graduate 23,000 in 1975 compared with 10,000 in 1961. The anticipated number of students wanting to attend public colleges is 53,000 — 30,000 more than two years ago.

Curlett Report Under Study

A new board of nine trustees would be responsible for the five teacher colleges and Morgan. A division primarily responsible for the two-year community colleges would be established within the State Department of Education. The University of Maryland would continue to be managed by its own board of regents.

The Curlett commission also recommended that the three segments voluntarily form an advisory board from their own ranks.

Blair Lee III, a commission member and former delegate, objected and urged that the advisory board be part of state law with a required number of members representing the public.

His arguments were repeated by two members of the Legislative Council, Del. A. Gordon Boone and Sen. William S. James, presiding officers in the House and Senate respectively, this year.

They did not press their points in the council after strong objections from Dr. Wilson Elkins, University of Maryland president, and Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, state school superintendent.

However, the subject probably will be pursued at Thursday's hearing. The American Association of University Women also has voiced objections to the proposed make-up of the advisory board.

Dr. Martin D. Jenkins, another member of the Curlett Commission and president of Morgan, also dissented from part of the majority report.

Dr. Jenkins' Objection

His battle will be carried forward in the legislature by Sen. Verda Welcome, D-Balto 4th.

Dr. Jenkins felt that the new single board would be preoccupied with bringing the teacher colleges up to the status of other liberal arts institutions. Morgan, he said, is second in size only to the University of Maryland as a state institution and already is devoted

YMCA To Begin Nursery Class

Central YMCA will begin its nursery school tomorrow for boys and girls between the ages of two and five, according to Mrs. Ellen Lamison, nursery class director.

A "free play" period will be held during the 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. sessions on Tuesdays and Thursdays and will include finger painting, literature for the various age levels and work at a dough board.

Registrations for the eight-week class will be accepted until 20 children have been signed up. Parents interested in the class should contact the YMCA.
